Three Persons Meet Violent Deaths Here Wednesday

Dayton Pair Killed When Plane Falls

5-Place Ship Crashes Into Cemetery Here

A Dayton couple was killed here Wednesday afternoon as the result of an airplane crash in St. Joseph's cemetery.

They were identified as Floyd Ressler Garrison, 50, of Dayton Route 5, the owner; and Mrs. Doris Radcliffe Hufford, 38, of 326 West First street, Dayton.

The couple was killed when their five-place Stinson aircraft plummetted to the ground in the cemetery at about 2:15 p. m. Wednesday.

Garrison was pronounced dead at the scene of the crash, while Mrs. Hufford died about two hours later in Berger hospital.

Observers at Elsea airfield just north of the city limits said the Garrison plane had just taken off. Garrison made the trip from Dayton to check on repair work to another of his planes at the Harmon-Schelb hangar.

THE OBSERVERS said the Garrison plane rose about 400 feet over the ground and then went into a steep climb.

In the climb, the plane lost airspeed and stalled, twisting to the ground out of control. The ship clipped off a tree in the cemetery as it struck the ground.

The airplane was demolished in the crash. It did not catch fire, however, although Circleville firemen were called to the scene as a precautionary measure.

Deputy James Diltz, who investigated the crash, said Garrison was dead at the scene and Mrs. Hufford was rushed into the hospital, still able to talk.

Pickaway County Coroner Ned Griner said Mrs. Hufford died of multiple fracture of her limbs, chest and skull; and Garrison died of multiple fractures.

After emergency vehicles arrived at the scene and the bodies removed, the area was roped off until the wreckage was inspected by the CAA.

Deaths of the Dayton pair brought to four the number of persons who have lost their lives in the immediate vicinity in the last 19 months.

IN MAY, 1951, a pilot lost his life when his airship plunged into adjoining Forest cemetery and burned. Earlier this year a spray plane pilot lost his life when his ship stalled and fell into a soybean patch just north of the Elsea field.

Mrs. Hufford was a house detective for the Sears-Roebuck company. She was a widow.

She was born July 1, 1914, in Albany, Athens County, daughter of Frank and Wilma Hart Radcliffe. She is survived by two brothers and two sisters. Her body was transferred from Defenbaugh Funeral Home to a funeral home in Albany.

Garrison was married and operated a household appliance store near Dayton.

He was born Jan. 11, 1902, in Miamisburg, son of Bert and Edna Ressler Garrison. He is survived by his widow. His body was transferred from Defenbaugh Funeral Home to a Dayton funeral home.

No 'Expert's' Ear Heard Ike Rush Coming

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—Several newspaper surveys outdid the professional pollsters this year on the presidential election, no "experts" ear caught the rumble of the advancing Eisenhower landslide.

The Gallup, Roper and Crossley polls all seemed to give Dwight D. Eisenhower an edge during the hours before Tuesday's election. But none flatly picked him.

The only professional poll that did was Kenneth Fink's Princeton Research Service. But his margin was far short of the actual one.

An Associated Press survey of editors across the nation showed Eisenhower the probable winner in 20 states, and with an edge in eight, with a total of 327 electoral votes. He actually carried all 28.

Samuel Lubell, who surveyed pre-election sentiment for the Scripps-Howard newspapers, said in advance that Eisenhower "should win." Lubell terms himself a reporter and not a pollster, and he said he rang doorbells in strategic communities. He found a definite switch from those who voted for President Truman in 1948 to Eisenhower in 1952.

"There never was any doubt in my mind about Eisenhower," he said of the election gave the general 39 states and 442 electoral votes. Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson got nine states, 89 electoral votes.

Savage Fight In Korea Now Slacking Off

SEOUL, Nov. 4—(AP)—The savage fighting that has raged over the frozen hills north of Kumhwa for 24 days slackened off Thursday. Battered assault forces retired to rest and regroup.

For the moment at least, neither side showed any will to renew the bloody central front struggle.

South Korean troops held grimly to Sniper Ridge after throwing back a predawn assault by 150 Chinese Reds. The attack, relatively light for that sector, was the only Communist offensive move in 24 hours.

The Reds held the crest of nearby Triangle Hill without opposition. Allied leaders ordered the South Koreans to halt their suicide charges up the slope and called instead for artillery barrages.

An artillery officer said Allied big gunpower had been built up in the Kumhwa sector to equal that of the battle of Hurtgen Forest in Germany in World War II. When Allied troops launched their limited offensive against the Kumhwa ridges last month, they ran into an amazing concentration of Red artillery and for the first time in the Korean war were outgunned.

Fighting for the shell-scarred slopes has been costly in men and materials. The Reds have lost more than 12,000 killed and wounded. UN losses have not been announced, but they are severe.

Some Ike-Backers 'Down In Dumps'

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 6—(AP)—Some Ike supporters are down in the dumps. Four at the University of California are—by a judge's orders.

The four—Terry A. Walsh, 18; Daniel H. Power, 20; Karel A. Smith, 21, and Ted Moriarity, 22—were nabbed by police while setting Eisenhower victory bonfires. Their sentence: four days raking refuse at the city dump.

20-Year-Old Father Killed By Automobile

Local Authorities Holding Motorist For Investigation

A 20-year-old father enroute to Columbus with his wife and friends to get his infant son from Children's hospital was fatally injured at about 8:10 p. m. Wednesday when struck by a hit-skip auto just north of Circleville.

He was identified as Kenneth Eugene Huston, 20, of Jackson Route 3. Coroner Ned Griner said death resulted from a fractured neck and fractured leg.

Huston was rushed from the scene of the accident into Berger hospital. He died, however, just after entering the hospital.

Pickaway County authorities Thursday were holding a 41-year-old motorist for investigation in connection with the accident.

THE MOTORIST was arrested just south of Columbus on Route 23 by state highway patrolman shortly after the accident "in a state of intoxication."

Sheriff Charles Radcliff said the right front headlight and fender of his auto were damaged. Tests were being conducted Thursday to determine whether it was his car which struck Huston.

Deputy Jim Diltz, who investigated the fatal mishap, said the accident happened four miles north of Circleville on Route 23, just south of Clay's restaurant.

He said Huston, his wife and mother had been riding toward Columbus in an auto operated by Hubert Vance of near Jackson.

Just south of Clay's, the right rear tire of the Vance car went flat. The tire was removed, and Huston said he would roll it up to the restaurant to have it filled with air.

As he rolled the tire along the east side of the highway heading north, off the paved highway several feet, he was struck by an unidentified northbound auto. The accident happened about 400 yards north of the spot the tire was changed.

Witness to the accident was Charles Styers of Circleville, who was driving southward at the time. Styers told the deputy he saw the auto strike Huston. He supplied a description.

HUSTON was thrown into a farm fence about 10 feet to the right and fell to the ground.

Children's hospital reported the 5-week-old Huston baby had been ill with an intestinal disorder. He was to have been released Wednesday night.

Unofficial Vote Count Matches Official Tally

Unofficial vote totals listed Wednesday by Pickaway County's board of elections following the huge vote here Tuesday showed the true picture of local results.

Elections board officials Thursday said the unofficial tabulation was correct except for several minor changes which do not affect announced outcomes.

And the official counting showed the proposed city sewage levy was defeated by the 2.8 percent margin indicated by the unofficial tabulations.

Following announcement of defeat of the levy Wednesday, vitally interested parties in the northend suggested the possibility of a recount since the apparent defeat was by such a narrow margin.

MRS. NELLIE Stout, clerk to the elections panel, said a recount is possible when the challengers post a deposit of $10 for each precinct questioned.

The money will be refunded, she added, if a certain percentage of errors is discovered.

Atom-Area Gets Rental Controls

Older rental housing has been controlled in parts of the four-county Ohio area. The new order covers those sections of Ross, Pike, Jackson, and Scioto Counties not now controlled. It also extends coverage to newer rental units, converted housing, auto courts, hotels and motels.

ELECTION SHOWS NATION SHOUTING: 'I LIKE IKE'

Lausche Sets Two Records In Reelection

Governor's Plurality Over Taft Runs More Than 422,000 Votes

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche, lone Democratic survivor of a statewide Republican sweep, set two Ohio election records. He became the first governor to win a fourth term and he did it with a record plurality for that office.

With only a handful of the state's 10,877 polling places incomplete after Tuesday's record balloting, Lausche paced Republican Charles P. Taft, brother of Sen. Robert A. Taft, by more than 422,000 votes.

GOP Sen. John W. Bricker set the previous record of 379,000 in the 1942 race for his third term as governor.

Bricker, 1944 vice presidential nominee, won reelection in what he termed his last campaign, by a margin of more than 343,000 over Michael V. DiSalle, President Truman's former price stabilizer.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower ran away with Ohio's 25 presidential electoral votes. He had a 504,000 bulge over Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee.

TRUMAN CARRIED the state by a 7,000-vote margin in 1948 and it went Republican by 11,000 in 1944.

Attorney General C. William O'Neill looked like a good bet to surpass Ike's margin in winning reelection over Democrat Paul W. Ward. O'Neill had a majority of about 300 votes greater than Eisenhower's with some 200 more polling places missing than in the presidential count.

The nearly completed statewide tabulation approached a total vote of 3,700,000 well ahead of the previous 1940 record of 3,319,000.

The count fell short of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's forecast of 3,950,000, based largely on record registrations.

The vote deluge left the political complexion of Ohio's congressional delegation unchanged. Republicans kept their 16 House seats, the Democrats five and the lone independent, nominally a Democrat, won reelection.

The Ohio delegation will include the first mother-son combination ever sent to Congress. The team is composed of Mrs. Frances Bolton, 22nd District in Cuyahoga County and her son, Oliver, who won his first race in Northeastern Ohio's newly created 11th District.

New Congress To See Very Thin Control By Republicans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—Congress has returned to Republican control by a margin so thin that President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower probably will depend upon bipartisan support to put through many of his policies.

While the general was winning with a landslide vote Tuesday, his supporters fought bitterly and in some cases neck and neck for seats in the 83rd Congress, which will consider major international and domestic problems next year.

Eight congressional races went into vote-by-vote counting, with at least three of them dependent upon absentee ballots from throughout the world, including Korea. In some close races, defeated candidates have indicated they may contest the outcome.

Complete Senate returns gave the Republicans 48 seats and the Democrats 47. Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who resigned from the Republican Party to support Democrat Adlai Stevenson, was listed as an independent with possibly a decisive vote.

The Democrats held a 49-47 edge in the 82nd Congress. In the last Republican-controlled (80th) Congress of 1947, the GOP had a 51-45 advantage in the Senate.

Republicans Tuesday won 220 House seats, two more than necessary for control. The Democrats took 206 but one of these became vacant with the death early Thursday of Rep. Sabath (D-Ill), dean of the House, who had just been elected to his 24th consecutive term. A House vacancy can be filled only by a special election.

One independent who usually votes with the Democrats was reelected, and Democrats were leading in all eight undecided districts.

The Democrats held 232 House seats in the last Congress, but this advantage was largely nullified by an anti-Truman voting coalition of Republicans and Dixiecrats.

In 1947, the Republicans controlled the House by a 245-188 margin, with one vacancy and one American Labor Party member.

The victory gives the GOP a voting edge, particularly if Southern Democratic support continues, but the Republicans will gain greater power by controlling committee chairmanships and other top positions in both houses. From these posts, GOP leaders can direct the progress of legislation.

The new Congress faces basic decisions on how much money to spend on foreign aid and the military buildup, whether to continue high tax rates and what to do about expiring wage and price controls.

Many of the top Republicans in Congress favored reducing the nation's foreign commitments below the minimum that Eisenhower has said was safe.

The Republicans captured 23 of the 35 Senate seats at stake, with the Democrats winning 12. This was a net GOP gain of two seats.

Four incumbent Republicans were beaten—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, who was Eisenhower's preconvention campaign manager; James P. Kem of Missouri; Harry Cain of Washington and Zales Ecton of Montana.

Four Democratic senators also were overturned—Ernest McFarland of Arizona, the majority leader; the veteran Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming; William Benton of Connecticut and Thomas Underwood of Kentucky.

Patrick Hurley Defeated Again

ALBUQUERQUE, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Democratic Sen. Dennis Chavez has won reelection over Republican challenger Patrick J. Hurley for the second straight time.

Chavez, head of the Senate Public Works Committee, led 121,563 to 117,018 in the unofficial count with all but 13 of the state's 894 divisions reported. Declining to concede, Hurley, former secretary of war and ambassador to China, had ballot boxes in four northern counties impounded. The counties gave Chavez about 2,700 votes of his lead.

Public Meeting On Bypass Plan For Route 23 Planned Thursday

Circleville residents, still recovering from their election activities, will turn their attention again Thursday night to the issue of a proposed bypass for Route 23.

A public meeting on the state's plan to reroute the highway around the western side of the city is scheduled for 8 p. m. Thursday in Pickaway County common pleas courtroom.

Leaders for the two opposing factions on the bypass issue indicated early Thursday that they will "make plans as we go along" during the session.

Council President Ben Gordon was out of the city Thursday morning but was expected back in time for the meeting. When plans for the public meeting were agreed upon at a council session some time ago it was generally understood all council members would be on hand for the discussion.

REPRESENTATIVES of the state highway department will be at the meeting to explain details of the state's proposal. They are expected to bring with them estimates and other data needed to answer the queries of interested groups.

Local residents were cautioned that plans to discuss details of the bypass at this time do not mean that the project is planned for the near future.

It may be, some have pointed out, that state officials merely want to "pin down" decisions on the proposal so that work can be expedited when its turn in the priority line comes due.

At the same time, Gordon some time ago expressed the opinion that the meeting Thursday night may be decisive, inasmuch as it may be the local public's major opportunity to air views pro and con on the plan.

Approval Given For Boost Here

Ohio's board of tax appeals Thursday gave approval for the recent increase of tax valuations throughout Pickaway County.

Ordered by the department of taxation this Summer to increase local real estate valuations for tax purposes, county officials made a complete 15 percent value boost.

The local hike amounted to a $5.6 million boost, increasing the county valuation from $34.02 million to $39.63 million.

County Auditor Fred Tipton received notice Thursday that the increase was considered sufficient by the state.

State Senator Winners Reported

Tenth — Pickaway, Franklin: Robert H. Shaw (R), Wilbur L. Shull (R).

General Given Millions More Ballots Than Any Other Candidate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower is basking, now that the election is over—basking under (1) the Georgia sun and (2) the warmth that comes with having shattered all records for drawing American voter acclaim.

Eisenhower, however, lost no time in pushing politics into the background. He headed for Augusta, Ga., for a politics-free 10-day vacation.

It may not be entirely politics-free since many major decisions must be made before he takes the oath of office next January. It is Cabinet-picking time, for instance.

A cold appraisal of election statistics leads to the conclusion that Eisenhower enjoys a nationwide popularity to which no other man in history could lay claim.

The political fires which blazed across this nation for four long months have been reduced to embers and it is time to examine statistics.

HERE ARE SOME things the statistics show:

1. Eisenhower received more votes than any presidential candidate in history, millions more, than any other. Too, the total vote was the greatest ever recorded.

2. His immense vote - appeal swept into office with him a majority, although slim, of Republican candidates for the Senate, the House of Representatives and for governors of the several states.

3. His electoral vote total was the second highest ever piled up by a Republican—just a shade under the total accumulated by Herbert Hoover in 1928 when religious prejudice against his opponent, Alfred E. Smith, a Roman Catholic, figured prominently in the returns.

4. Eisenhower shattered the once "Solid South," winning three of the most staunchly Democratic states in the country and apparently adding four of the almost-always Democratic border states.

5. He punctured the Democratic strongholds of Massachusetts and Rhode Island where Irish-Catholic citizens have voted in blocs for the Democrats for 25 years.

Of the nation's 146,361 voting units, all but 10,842 had been tabulated by daybreak Thursday. Eisenhower had piled up a vote total of 31,875,451 compared to 25,668,925 for Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic opponent.

The previous high was piled up by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936 who got 27,751,597 in his race with Alf M. Landon.

Tuesday's incomplete total vote cast for both Eisenhower and Stevenson added up to 57,544,367, compared with the previous record of 49,820,312 in 1940

Russia Protests Newest U.S. Sea Defense Zone Off Korea

MOSCOW, Nov. 6—(AP)—A Russian note to Washington charges the United States with an illegal and aggressive new blockade in Korean waters and warns that the United States must take the "responsibility for consequences."

Moscow radio Wednesday broadcast the text of the terse 350-word note and announced that it was delivered by the Russian embassy in Washington Tuesday.

The State Department acknowledged receipt of the protest but diplomatic and naval officials declined comment until it is studied.

The Soviet Union objected to an order Sept. 27 by UN Commander Gen. Mark Clark which established a "sea defense zone" in South Korean waters to "eliminate infiltration of enemy agents" into Allied prisoner of war camps on Koje and other Korean islands, as well as to prevent attacks on the South Korean coast, protect UN command lines of communications and halt smuggling.

Clark said investigations of the prisoner riots on the islands "have shown conclusively they were instigated and abetted by enemy agents, landed from small boats and carrying instructions from Communist headquarters in North Korea."

The Russian note contended that establishment of the zone "represents a violation of the freedom of sea, trade in the open sea and also a violation of the rights of the USSR and other states."

It charged that the order was "a new act of aggression in the Far East," which "proves once again that the U. S. government is not only unwilling to stop the war in Korea, but is following the path of new acts of aggression."

U.S. State Department Heads To Roll As Ike Goes On Job

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—The State Department, target of Republican attack for six years, is getting ready to face the inevitable a Republican shakeup.

Probably no other agency in Washington outside the White House was so stunned by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's election victory Tuesday. Unquestionably it meant that heads will roll.

Estimates of the number of high officials and diplomats who will get the ax range up to 100 or more.

That Secretary Dean Acheson is out, no one disputes. He has planned for months to return to his Washington law practice whether Eisenhower or Gov. Adlai Stevenson succeeded Truman. The top echelon under Acheson embraces upwards of 20 persons, including an under secretary, deputies, and assistant secretaries.

In addition there are men who have been closely identified with Acheson's policies, such as Philip Jessup, ambassador at large, and policy planning chief Paul Nitze, former Wall Street banker.

Abroad a total of 72 ambassadors and ministers head up U. S. diplomatic missions. Of those, department officials said, approximately 50 are career foreign service officers and the rest are political appointees.

Many changes in foreign posts are expected to be worked out by the Eisenhower administration over the first few months of next year.

The speculation is that he will accept resignations of all the political appointees including such ambassadors as Richard C. Patterson Jr. in Switzerland, Charles Ulrich Bay in Norway, Walter S. Gifford in Britain, William O'Dwyer in Mexico and Pete Jarman in Australia.

Local Voters 'Talk Off' Big Race

Circleville's "hangover day" following ups and downs of the election returns developed a wide variety of views Thursday on what-might-have-been and what the future will bring politically.

Rehashing of the vote returns was a popular occupation in all sections of the city.

Brunt of the burden that still lingers from the election fell as usual upon offices of the election board here where Clerk Nellie Stout and her aides were faced with the task of completing official tabulations.

Main policy enforced by Mrs. Stout was to "take first things first" in the process of answering numerous queries and the inevitable aftermath problems.

MAYOR ED Amey, an early caller at the office, was jokingly told he could take off his "campaign button" now that the excitement was over.

"But that isn't a political campaign button," the mayor assured his listeners. "Today I'm working for the Boy Scouts. Anybody want to contribute?"

For the most part, however, talk centered on how the various candidates won, why some of them lost, and what the results may be when the next vote test comes around.

It was apparent all over the downtown section that many views haven't been changed by the election decisions.

But it was widely agreed the "closest call" on election day should be marked up to a Republican who almost placed a friendly bet after being needled Tuesday by a Democrat who assured him:

"All the banks will be closed exactly eight months from today."

And just as the Republican reached for his money, it dawned on him that eight months from election day would be Fourth of July, when all banks close for a national holiday.

Brannan Sees No Farm Shift

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said today he does not believe the farm vote swung as heavily to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as did other segments of the population.

Asked what he thought was the major reason for Eisenhower's election, Brannan replied: "I think it was the women's vote based upon promises, implied or otherwise, to bring an end to Korea."

Property Owners Told Drive On Sidewalks Gets Tougher

Dewey Speakman, city service director, reminded Circleville property owners Thursday the drive against faulty sidewalks is nearing the compulsory stage.

Speakman some time ago notified the public a "crackdown" was in the making to bring about long overdue sidewalk repairs.

He said appeals for cooperation have not brought desired results and warned that the city can "take over" and have sidewalks fixed if property owners fail to do so. In such cases, costs of the work would be placed on the property owner's tax duplicate.

"The response to my last statement on this subject has been very encouraging," Speakman said. "Many people have called me for information and advice in regard to their sidewalks, and I've made it clear the city is willing to help all it can.

"HOWEVER, WE knew from the start that some property owners would figure this is just another bluff and that they'd wait again until the idea blows over.

"This time, I can assure them, it isn't going to blow over. In fact, we have already started to study the legal angles involved in making sidewalk repairs compulsory here."

Speakman said "about eight or nine" local property owners have already fixed their sidewalks in response to his last notification.

In some instances, he added, property owners are waiting until they can obtain cement and other supplies before they make repairs—and that consideration will be shown for those cases.

At the same time, he stressed that inability to get supplies "can't always be the excuse—and we'll be able to find out whether it's a valid excuse or not."

For property owners who have broken or uneven brick sidewalks, Speakman said, the city's request can be met if the bricks are "leveled up" and the surface made reasonably smooth. He added it may be necessary to cut off portions of tree roots to make such repairs.

A suit asking $6,398.69 in damages allegedly suffered as result of a defective sidewalk on East High street is on file against the city.

Ike Accepts Truman Peace Talk Offer

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 6 — (AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower has accepted President Truman's suggestion for a conference on the problem of peace.

Eisenhower replied to an invitation from Truman to meet with him in the White House.

The President-elect said he needs some time for "conversations and conferences leading up to the designation of important assistants." Therefore, his message continued, "I respectfully suggest we tentatively plan the proposed meeting for the early part of the week beginning Nov. 17."

Eisenhower sent the message from his vacation headquarters at the Augusta National Golf Club where he arrived Wednesday for a 10-day rest.

Truman proposed an early discussion at the White House on the problem of world peace. In the earlier message he reminded Eisenhower that the next national budget is being prepared and suggested that Eisenhower have a representative confer with the director of the budget.

The general replied:

"I shall try to arrange within the next two or three days to have a personal representative to sit with the director."

He gave no indication of the man he may choose for that job.

Eisenhower's aides were silent on the President's second proposal for a discussion of peace problems.

Eisenhower's personal idea for a beginning is to go to Korea himself to study the situation there and search for a solution.

Scout Campaign Now Underway

Leaders of Pickaway County met early Thursday for an "early bird" breakfast in First EUB church service center, kickoff to a day-long Boy Scout finance campaign.

A large crowd of men attended the special breakfast program and heard an address by Dr. H. L. Yochum, dean of Capital university.

Following the breakfast, the men began a day-long canvass throughout the county seeking funds for the Boy Scout program here. Last year's drive netted $2,900.

Firemen Extinguish Two Grass Blazes

Two of the three calls answered by Circleville fire department Wednesday resulted from grass fires.

The third alarm, at 2:28 p. m., took the firefighters to the scene of a fatal plane crash in St. Joseph Cemetery. Two persons were killed. Wreckage of the aircraft did not burn.

At about 5:10 p. m. the department extinguished a grass fire at Huston court. Twenty minutes later, the township truck checked a similar blaze in the Cedar Heights area of Circleville Township.

In the Electoral College, where Presidents actually are chosen, Eisenhower has won 442 votes against 89 for Stevenson. Some states might yet swing over to Stevenson.

Returns put the Democratic presidential nominee ahead in only nine states. There was a chance Stevenson might yet lose one of those nine states—Kentucky. If so, his electoral vote total would fall to 79.

With 116 precincts missing, Stevenson led in Kentucky by 1,527 votes. He had a popular vote of 484,036 to 482,509 for Eisenhower.

THESE ARE THE states where Stevenson led (electoral votes in parentheses):

Alabama (11); Arkansas (8); Georgia (12); Kentucky (10); Louisiana (10); Mississippi (8); North Carolina (14); South Carolina (8); West Virginia (8).

All these states have a long tradition of going for the Democrats.

Whether Eisenhower will retain his tremendous popularity through the next four years remains to be seen. His majorities in both houses of Congress are very thin indeed—48 to 47 in the Senate and, at this moment, 220 to 214 in the House.

Eight races in the House have not yet been decided, but Democrats are leading in all of those contests and if they all win, the 220-214 alignment will result.

Republicans gained five governors in Tuesday's voting, boosting their lead in the state's guvernatorial mansions from two to 12. That ratio will hold if the two races still in doubt, in Michigan and Montana, go the way they are headed now.

Before the voting, there were 25 Republican governors and 23 Democrats. Now there are 29 GOP governors and 17 Democrats.

There are other statistics available for those who like such things:

EISENHOWER is the oldest Republican ever elected to the White House, although three earlier presidents were older on taking office. They were William Henry Harrison, 68; James Buchanan, 65, and Zachary Taylor, 64. The general is 62.

Eisenhower is the first Texan ever elected President.

He is the 12th general to be elected.

And he is the first man to be elected who has four syllables in his last name. Newspaper headline writers know this already.

As for picking his Cabinet, the first for any Republican in 24 years, Eisenhower has a wealth of material.

He once said he might appoint a qualified Negro to the Cabinet, but there is no indication he still is intrigued by that idea.

Among Cabinet prospects could be listed Govs. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, Earl Warren of California, Edward F. Arn of Kansas, Dan Thornton of Colorado, Sens. Henry Cabot Lodg Jr., defeated for reelection in Massachusetts, Frank Carlson of Kansas, Fred Seaton of Nebraska, James Duff of Pennsylvania, John Foster Dulles, former State Department adviser; Paul G. Hoffman, former Marshall Plan director; retired Gen. Lucius Clay and GOP National Chairman Arthur Summerfield.

SUMMERFIELD says he wants to go back to his automobile business in Michigan and Lodge says he would like to go back into the newspaper business. He formerly was a reporter.

Eisenhower has talked about putting a woman in the Cabinet and Oveta Culp Hobby, co-publisher of the Houston, Tex., Post and Mary Lord, co-chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, have been mentioned in this connection.

It is a domestic issues, outside of his announced intention to act in an executive capacity to clean out Communism and corruption in Washington, that Eisenhower will face his greatest test in Congress.

PERHAPS THE general's program on that score was best spelled out when he met with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in New York in September. Taft said then he couldn't agree with all of Eisenhower's foreign policy views, but said differences were only on degrees.

Taft said in a statement which Eisenhower endorsed that there must be a reduction in federal spending and in taxes.

Wednesday Taft said in Cincinnati that the tremendous majority given to Eisenhower "shows the determination of the people to restore a government believing in American principles of liberty as opposed to the growing bureaucracy, spending and taxation of the so-called Fair Deal.

"That feeling was intensified by the resentment against the corruption in the Truman administration and the pro-Communist foreign policy which built up Russia and brought about the Korean war."

The President-elect has agreed to send a representative to sit in with President Truman's experts in the drafting of the budget to be submitted to Congress in January. This budget will have a great deal to do with any tax reduction.

Taft, who will be the actual if not nominal leader of the Republicans in the Senate, has said the budget ought to be cut from $79 billon this year back to $70 billion in the next year, with a goal of $60 billion the following year.

He and Eisenhower agreed, the Ohio senator said, that there should be some amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act, but that its "basic principles" were sound.

DEATHS

HENRY C. RENICK

Henry C. Renick, 90, died at 6:15 p. m. Wednesday in his home on Pontious Lane.

Mr. Renick was a retired farmer and a member of Presbyterian church.

He was born May 6, 1862, in Jackson Township, son of John and Amanda Buckles Renick.

His first wife, Emma Rice Renick, preceded him in death, and on March 8, 1898, he married Catharine Adkins Renick, who survives. He was also preceded in death by a son, J. Fred Renick.

Other survivors are two sons, Attorney Tom A. Renick of Circleville and Donald Van Meter Renick of Grand Rapids, Mich.; two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Renick Gregory of Lodge Grass, Mont., and Mrs. Vernon S. Lilly of Detroit, Mich.; 11 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are to be completed by Mader Funeral Home.

MRS. BESSEY DAVIDSON

Mrs. Bessey Mae Davidson, 64, died Wednesday in her home in South Bloomfield.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Fred Prushing and Nancy Alberta Davidson; a son, Roliff Wolford, of Circleville Route 3; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in South Bloomfield Methodist church. Burial will be in South Bloomfield cemetery, by direction of the A. J. Hott Co., Commercial Point.

Friends may call in the residence in South Bloomfield after Friday noon.

Woman Injured In Auto Crash

A Laurelville woman suffered severe lacerations late Wednesday in an auto accident about nine miles east of Circleville on Route 56.

Deputy Jim Diltz said the crash happened at about 6:30 p. m. when an auto operated by Thomas Wiggins, 38, of Laurelville, left the highway and crashed into a stump.

Mrs. Virginia Wiggins, 35, a passenger, was treated in Berger hospital for a severely lacerated right knee and lacerated forehead.

Lausche Sets Two Records

The only statewide issue on the ballot met a thumbs-down decision from the voters. A majority of nearly 800,000 rejected a proposal for a convention to consider changing the state constitution. They turned down a similar proposal in 1932. The question goes on the ballot every 20 years.

Ohio's legislature remained overwhelmingly Republican on the basis of incomplete returns.

Tabulations showed 101 Republicans and 35 Democrats elected to the house; 22 Republicans and five Democrats to the senate.

The last legislature had 98 Republicans, 36 Democrats and one independent (nominally a Democrat) in the house. The Senate had 26 Republicans and six Democrats.

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

When a tot begins to play with other children, he has a hard time learning to share his playthings.

"It's mine!" he may shout in anger when another youngster begins to handle a toy of his, especially if the second child attempts to take the toy from the grasp of its owner.

Even when the young owner has neglected a certain plaything for a long while, he may want to play with it himself at once when a playmate finds it attractive.

In the meanwhile, the playmate may try hard to seize and handle any toy of the young owner that appeals to him; and once he gets this toy in his hands he considers it his as long as he likes, and may resist the efforts of its owner to recover it.

The best time and place to begin to teach your little tot to share his things is when another little child comes into your home to play with him. In order to learn to share, he must have a plaything of his very own.

If he takes it to a playmate's home, it will be harder for you, as you can see, to lead him to share it with his little host; and if he takes it with him to a public playplace, still harder.

SUPPOSE you know your child is about to have his first visit from a playmate. You would want your child to have ready a few, not many, of his most sturdy toys.

If your child is playing with one of his toys, say a truck or car, and the playmate tries to seize it, you would not command your child to give it up. Instead, you would try to divert the playmate to another toy. Failing to do so, you might find it wise to prevent the playmate from appropriating the toy.

In the meanwhile, you would try to persuade your child to be ready after a little while to let the playmate have this toy for a period while your child plays with another toy.

And if your child did thus share, you would be generous in your approval of him. As you thus respect and protect your little child's sense of ownership, he will feel secure enough to be ready by-and-by to share.

If the playmate's mother, being present, were wise, she would command her child not to seize your child's toy till he (the owner) were willing to give it up. Should you be a guest with your little child in another young child's home, you also would restrain your child from infringing on the ownership of the child visited.

Real progress at sharing is made when two tots begin to exchange the use of several toys.

In the home with several young children, the earliest problem is to teach the youngest not to appropriate or mess up the things of the older children, and the older ones to respect his possessions.

In general, we should not command the young child to share his playthings, but prevail patiently upon him to do so and set the stage so he will.

Q. When a certain very destructive child is about to arrive, in our home, I prompt my child, four, to put away a few of his most cherished playthings. Do you approve?

A. Yes.

3 Voters Die In Train Crash

JACKSON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Three persons, driving to the polls to cast their votes, died Tuesday when their auto collided with a locomotive at Keystone Crossing, four miles south of here.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad police identified the dead as Henry Clayton Jones, 67; his wife, Lynn, 58; and Mrs. Dora Davis, 62; all of Jackson Route 7. A fourth person in the car, Mary Davis, daughter of Mrs. Davis, was injured critically.

Army Cooks Bag Pair Of Reds

Industry Sees Big Tire Year

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The rubber industry expects to sell more tires next year whether times are good or bad, and no matter what President-elect Dwight Eisenhower and Congress do.

Industry leaders base this prediction on the fact that in 1950 and 1951 the auto industry sold a record number of new cars. And just about next year those purchasers have to start replacing the original tires on them.

Weekly Food Review

By Associated Press

Reductions in retail food prices appeared to out-number rises this week.

Pork, lamb, eggs and citrus fruits were lower in many stores. Chickens and several tender vegetables advanced. Beef was generally steady except where prices were affected by special reductions to attract customers.

Fresh pork prices were trimmed as much as 16 cents a pound in leading stores. The spring crop of pigs is reaching market age and hog slaughter has climbed seasonally Pork loins and hams were meat specials in many places.

Legs of lamb, lamb shoulders and lamb chops also were being widely featured with prices down as much as eight cents a pound.

Receipts of frying and broiling chickens recently have been reflecting a decline in chicken production last summer when prices were low. This situation has firmed the current market.

IN SOME STORES this week, fryers, were up eight cents a pound, but the average was about three cents.

Turkey prices held about steady, but with consumption reported good, a price uptrend was anticipated by many dealers preparing to stock up for the big pre-Thanksgiving Day buying.

Aside from a marked drop in prices of grapefruit and most oranges, reflecting increased shipments, most prices on produce counters were a little higher.

Receipts of new vegetables from the South were not yet in large enough volume to offset the seasonal loss from nearby growing regions, and rains in the South reduced what limited supplies were available.

Snap beans, broccoli, cucumbers, eggplant and peppers were higher. So were cabbage and spinach, but these were still in the good buy class, along with beets, winter squash, and escarole and endive. Lettuce and tomatoes advanced in many stores.

CAPT. RICHARD SAKAKIDA, U. S. Air Force intelligence, leaves federal court in New York, where he testified that former U. S. Army Sgt. John David Provoo told him four days after Pearl Harbor that America was at fault in the war with Japan. When Corregidor fell, Sakakida added, he heard Provoo offer his services to the Japanese. Provoo is on trial on treason charges, accused of informing on American POWs in a Japanese prisoner camp. (International)

AIR SAFETY DEVICES

THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD has requested aviation interests to submit comments no later than November 24 on a series of safety proposals recommended by its Bureau of Safety Regulation.

While the proposals are largely technical, and thus should be weighed only by those experienced in aeronautical sciences, at least two, from the standpoint of the layman, would seem to be common sense approaches to improving air safety.

CAB proposes, for example, that air transports be equipped with alarms to warn of inadvertent or unwanted reversal of propellers in flight. This recommendation stems in large measure from CAB's findings as to the cause of the third transport crash in Elizabeth, N. J., last February.

CAB determined the right inboard propeller of the ill-fated plane had reversed. This produced a tremendous, unwanted braking force in flight. The crew, apparently unsure which of two propellers might be in reverse, shut down the wrong one. "Under these conditions," CAB reported, "the aircraft did not maintain altitude and settled rapidly." In short, it crashd.

Now CAB would require a device to give specific warning as to which propeller had slipped into reverse. While it is true changes have been made since the accident to make propeller systems more failsafe, the addition of warning devices still makes sense. Nothing should be allowed to detract from reversing as an on-the-ground braking safety system.

CAB also proposes to increase the flashing frequency of aircraft position lights. This also makes sense. Too often are "near misses" reported between aircraft in flight, particularly during poor visibility conditions. Stronger lights, it is suggested, would reduce the hazard.

The over-all proposals now being circularized for comment represent a step forward in air safety. Other recommendations, including those by the Doolittle Commission, are being considered for inclusion in the Civil Air Regulations. The aim, both commendable and needed, is to improve air safety.

The world is full of mistaken ideas, like the one that everything would be all right when Hitler, Tojo and Mussolini were defeated.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Now that the election campaign is over, it ought to be clear to Americans that the business of electing a President is too expensive, too time-consuming, too hampering of the conduct of the ordinary affairs of the nation.

It is impossible to approximate the cost of the election. The various reports made by candidates and by political parties of their receipts and expenditures do not represent a third of the actual cost of these campaigns. Large numbers of national and local committees make independent reports which seem trivial and are not noted.

Totalled up, for the entire country, they are enormous. Labor unions do not report their political expenditures as a rule because they are "educational." Much money is passed under the table in cash to avoid identification as well as to evade legal limitations. Everybody denies the giving or receipt of unlisted contributions but they are no secret in the market-place.

If the conventions were held around Labor Day and the campaign were limited, by agreement, to one month, from October 1 to November 1, with a few days of silent interval between the last day of oratory and the day of voting, the people would have a chance to think for themselves without the constant din. About two-thirds of the expense would be saved. It would seem as though the only beneficiaries of the endless yak-yak on radio and television are the networks which charge enormously for their facilities.

If the campaign were cut to one month, the candidates would not have to repeat themselves endlessly on the same subject. They might even have some time to write their own speeches and do some thinking. One reason that the speeches become increasingly dull as the campaign proceeds is that the ghost-writers, weary of endless conferences, endless pounding on typewriters, endless editorial meetings with each writer fighting for his gems of thought and expression.

Stevenson's ghost-writers were superior to Eisenhower's, although the product of both was fairly poor in thought and organization. Stevenson used Robert Sherwood of the Roosevelt regime, Professor Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., of Harvard and the A.D.A. and Leonard Spiegelglass of MGM, the movie company, among others. These are professional word-slingers. Eisenhower used the old Dewey team which had lost for him twice, Stanly High of the "Readers Digest" and about anybody who would lend a hand.

How much if any of these speeches were written by the candidates themselves will never be known; they were very few. The speech mills turned out hundreds of them, not only for the candidates but for side speakers. A man who delivers 10 or 12 short and long speeches between breakfast and bed-time is usually too word-drunk to know what he is talking about.

It was thought that with the advent of television, the "whistle-stop" could be eliminated. Actually there was more whistle-stopping in this campaign than ever before. And everybody got into the game to the delight of the railroads. Maybe it is good politics for the people to have a look

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

THE inspection at Fort Pierre was only a formality. The Pride of Kansas had been making good time and had passed there the day before. Captain Dudley had recounted what had happened and spoken in glowing terms of the part played by Rawls. His presence was enough to satisfy the authorities that all was as it should be.

Which was an ironic compliment. Rawls would have preferred to have both cargoes confiscated, for that would put a period to contemplated mischief. But with Kathleen a hostage for his own conduct, he dared not denounce the others. Better to wait for another opportunity. It was a long way to Fort Benton.

He anticipated a rigorous inspection when Fort Union was reached, near the mouth of the Yellowstone. That was not only orders, but it was the beginning of the really dangerous country, where contraband cargo was concerned. But as they neared the border between Dakota and Montana territories the Astrid dropped behind, so that only one boat would be visible at a time. McQuestion came aboard the Varina, and gave instructions to wait, then to proceed by night. Rawls eyed him in amazement.

"Do you aim to try to run past the fort in the dark?" he asked. "They'll be on the lookout for such a trick—they'll know that we're coming. It's risky business. In fact, I'd say it was virtually impossible. The Missouri narrows just above its junction with the Yellowstone, which gives mighty little leeway for slipping past."

"Never mind," McQuestion grunted. "Do as I say, and we'll see."

He volunteered nothing more until the broad push of the Yellowstone sent its beat against the Missouri, seeming to be the larger stream at this point. Then he gave his order.

"Swing up the Yellowstone. This is as far as we follow the Missouri."

Rawls was startled. The Yellowstone was a forbidden river in a hostile land, reserved half by treaty and half by unwritten law to the Indians, taboo to white men. Swinging south and west, it was a broad watercourse draining a vast country. Such streams as the Powder, the Tongue, and the Big Horn flowed to join it. And here, ironically enough, it was the turgid tide of the Yellowstone that changed the Missouri from a clear, sparkling stream to a yellowish flood, altering it to the Big Muddy.

"You're familiar with the Yellowstone, aren't you?" McQuestion prodded.

"I've traveled it to some extent," Rawls conceded. "Though as to saying that I know it, that's something else. I suppose you realize that you're taking your life in your hands—the lives of everyone—in making a venture like this?"

McQuestion shrugged. "Any job that's apt to pay big money is a risk," he said. "That's never stopped me yet."

"I don't mind it being your funeral," Rawls said drily, "but there are others to think of."

He was not alone in his pessimism. Astrid was gay, these days, coolly rebuffing Whirter, seeking anew to win the favor of Denny. To that end, she tried also to win the confidence of Narcissus, who had taken a real liking to Rawls. Her approach was oblique.

"I understand that you can read the future in tea leaves, Narcissus," Astrid murmured. "I've always been interested in anything like that. Would you read my future for me?"

Narcissus regarded her disapprovingly, turning from the unfriendly shores to a survey of the Astrid, its bow cleaving the water not far astern, paddle wheel making a froth where it passed.

"Tea ain' no laughin' matter," she told Astrid. "You mebby not like what it show."

"I'm sure I would," Astrid insisted. "Won't you try it, please?"

"All I do is read the tea," Narcissus warned. "What it tell not my business."

She made her preparations, while Astrid watched eagerly, but with a growing feeling of apprehension which she could not down. The clear amber liquid looked harmless, the leaves in the bottom of the cup no different from others which she had seen on numerous occasions. But as Narcissus drank the tea and stared somberly into the depths, Astrid realized suddenly that this was an alien and unfriendly land. It was as though giant forces had been set in motion which, like the river, could neither be checked nor controlled.

"Trouble," she intoned. "Trouble in the cup. Full up and spillin' over. You sowin' plenty trouble long way back. Now them seeds a-sproutin'."

Astrid strove to see, to have a look in the cup. It fell with a crash, splintering, a tiny dark stain spreading on the deck. Narcissus said not a word, but her eyes were burning. The angrily defiant words died unspoken on Astrid's tongue. Turning, she stumbled away.

It was easy to remind herself that tea leaves were only superstition, that she was Astrid McQuestion who had always gotten what she wanted, and that her father would continue to indulge her whims. She had made a misstep back in St. Louis—but she had realized it and wanted only to rectify it. Denny Rawls had loved her then. She had been desirable in his eyes, and she was unchanged now. She'd show Narcissus that tea leaves meant nothing. The thing to do was put an end to doubt and hesitation by going to Denny and getting this straightened out. That would make everything all right, and she'd lose no more time.

But Rawls was not in the pilothouse. The long-faced Taber was at the wheel, with the Varina barely creeping against the current, as uncertain in the bright sunshine as though it had been midnight.

"Cap'n Rawls is sick," he replied to her query. "He tried to steer, but he was pale as a rag and near as limp. And sweatin', Sweatin' and shakin' at the same time." He shook his head. "I don't like it. We'll be in trouble if anything happens to him. Ever see a dirtier stream? You can't make out what it hides, no more'n if we was sailin' on tar."

"If he's sick, I'll go see him," Astrid said quickly. "He may need something."

Earnshaw was coming up, and he stopped her.

"He's asleep now. I hope he feels better when he wakes up. Better not disturb him." He took the wheel from Taber, scowled at the water, and looked back at her.

"I don't like this," he said bluntly. "I don't suppose Rawls knows much more what's down under here than the rest of us, but he seems to know by instinct where there's trouble. Somehow he keeps us going, though it must be a terrific strain. But Mr. Whirter insists that we keep moving, regardless. It's risky business without a pilot. Couldn't you talk to him?"

"Mr. Whirter? I'm afraid not," Astrid said coldly. "I have no influence over him."

From the way Earnshaw looked at her, she could almost read his thoughts. That she could exert influence if she tried; also that she owed it to the rest of them to subjugate her personal feelings to the good of the expedition. But she had no intention of making her peace again with Mark Whirter. It would have to be on his terms—that he become Lomax McQuestion's son-in-law.

That was all that he wanted, actually, or ever had desired her for. He'd worked through her to get McQuestion interested in this venture, the boats, the money and what it could buy. Nothing else counted with Mark Whirter. He was a cold, unfeeling machine, not a man. In his scheme of things, she was just another means to an end.

Wishing she might temper her refusal, she exclaimed suddenly and pointed: "What's that, Mr. Earnshaw? Or who is it? Off there by the shore."

Earnshaw had already seen. It was a man, out just a few feet from the shrouding cottonwoods and dense undergrowth that made a green wall back from the river. The man waved his arms and appeared to be shouting, though the sound was drowned by the noise of the river and the engines.

Moss Hart, one of Edna Ferber's dearest friends, confides: "You can always tell when Edna is irked with you by the Gutzon Borglum look on her face." (Borglum was a famous sculptor in stone.)

A farmer's wife, suddenly clothes conscious, went to New York and indulged in an orgy of buying. One of the fripperies she wore home was a fancy hat, replete with ribbons, fruits and feathers. As she stepped out of her sedan, a gust of wind blew it off her head and sent it whirling toward the barn. Before she could retrieve it, the hired man had fired at it twice and the dog buried it back of the kennel.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—Campaign and congressional revelations of the unprecedented degree of executive secrecy surrounding the conduct of grave domestic and foreign affairs has precipitated an indignant demand on Capitol Hill for a more vigilant check on the downtown branch of the government. It may be one of the hygienic results of the 1952 struggle.

The American people must now realize that censorship over information vital to their welfare and security, and to which they are entitled, has reached a new high—or—low under the Truman Administration. The Van Fleet letter disclosed a remarkable callousness at letting them know what, if any, steps were being taken to minimize their sons' sacrifices in Korea.

Aside from its political effect, this communication showed that efforts to train the natives were begun intensively only several months ago, despite repeated suggestions from commanders in the field since the invasion began on June 25, 1950.

Finally, it made clear that Presidential power over secret disposition of the nation's lives and treasure must be revised radically.

DISSATISFACTION — Truman's use of confidential Pentagon files in a political effort to discredit General Eisenhower has placed this question in an entirely new light. It has sharpened simmering congressional dissatisfaction with the executive control of governmental data, even though any attempt to loosen the grip may mean a constitutional clash in the courts.

Although Truman has withheld relatively unimportant material from House and Senate investigators clothed with proper authority, he was willing to declassify top-secret material that will give valuable information to the Kremlin for vote-getting purposes. Orders for this action came from the White House, not from Secretary Lovett.

It is easy to imagine the chagrin among key members of the legislative branch, in view of the fact that they have not been able to pry this material from Truman or Acheson files.

STARTLING FACT—The Truman-Van Fleet-Eisenhower incident, as the public thinks less emotionally of campaign developments, will awaken them to the startling fact that they have almost no control of their government's behavior. Even more serious, the Congress they elect cannot serve as watchdog for them.

Despite this temporary and partisan violation of Truman-imposed secrecy codes, his ukases against dissemination of information by civilian departments still stand. These orders against publicity affect such questions as tax reductions and refunds, loans and grants, the pardon of prisoners, favors to friends, foreign deals involving billions of dollars, the handling of natural resources. In fact, almost every field of Federal activity.

KOREAN - LIKE — Even the simplest kind of document has been marked "classified" under Truman's dicta. Washington correspondents have complained of this Kremlin-like condition, but their warnings have been regarded as professional griping. Now, it must be evident that their government is hiding essential facts from the public.

In view of forthcoming proposals for vast and costly undertakings in military and economic adventures overseas, this growing spirit and system of secrecy at the Capital becomes a question of national concern.

Having a firm foundation as a result of Roosevelt-Truman aggrandizement of executive power and audacity, it may become a permanent fixture in government unless checked by the next Congress, with a possible assist from the Supreme Court.

PRESIDENT—Attorney General McGranery and Secretary Snyder, by White House permission, made a gaudy show of granting congressional demands for pertinent material during the campaign. They appeared to cooperate fully with the King and Chelf groups inquiring into Justice and Treasury corruption and favoritism toward Truman cronies. They turned over data hitherto withheld.

But many committee members now suspect that they unbent only to impress the voters before Nov. 4. When the King committee asked for promised data on millions of inside tax deals involving prominent Hollywood figures, Secretary Snyder and Internal Revenue Commissioner Dunlap refused to comply. In order to postpone a pre-election showdown, they skipped to Seattle to attend the swearing-in of a few minor officials.

EXPERIENCE — Members of Congress have no pat answer to this problem of presidential secrecy. The Supreme Court has usually upheld the right of the executive branch to be its own judge in deciding what shall be kept under the lid, both in peace and wartime.

But the legislators' experience with Truman has taught them a lesson on how to handle disdainful and defiant chief executives. Henceforth, officials testifying on measures providing authority or funds for White House agencies will be cross-examined so viciously that it will make the Spanish Inquisition seem like a quiz-kid show on television.

Loyal Daughters Class Has Program At Meeting

"Prayer" Is Theme Of Devotionals

Twenty-one members and guests attended the regular meeting of the Loyal Daughters Class of the Evangelical United Brethren church, Tuesday evening in the service center.

Mrs. R. E. Nau was in charge of the devotions, using "Prayer," as her theme. She read several passages from the New Testament and commented on them.

Mrs. E. L. Pritchard, and Mrs. Elliott Mason gave readings, "I Dreamed A Dream," and "Prayer That Gets Results." Prayers were given by Mrs. Fred Zwicker, Mrs. Porter Martin and the Rev. Carl Wilson.

The president, Mrs. Martin, presided over the business session and added more thoughts on the theme. Following the roll call, payment of dues and reports, Miss Maggie Mavis, chairman of finance committee, gave her report.

Group decided to use envelope folders another year as a means of raising funds and it was also decided to start a fund to buy an electric mixer for use in the kitchen at the service center, and to pay for the painting of the kitchen at the parsonage. A small Christmas gift exchange is planned for the next meeting.

During the social hour, Mrs. Carl Radcliff read, "Missing the Bus," Mrs. Charles Ater read, "Old Farmer Gay Gets Photographed," and "Country Parson," was read by Mrs. Martin. A contest by Mrs. Radcliff was won by Mrs. Pritchard.

A lunch was served by the committee with Mrs. Ater, chairman, Mrs. Nolan Sims Sr., Miss Clara Lathouse, Mrs. Paul Dawson and Mrs. Russell Jones assisting.

Francis Dean Jr. Feted At Party

Mrs. Francis Dean entertained recently with a birthday party in her home, honoring her son, Francis Dean, Jr., who was celebrating his seventh birthday anniversary.

Refreshments were served and games were played. Prizes went to Carolyn Webb, Larry Baird and Jane Bayes.

Those present were the honored guest, Mrs. Vera Miller, Ronald Arledge, Larry Baird, Eugene Bitzer, Alice Buckner, Bradford Dunkle, Creola Gase, Lester Hayslip, Judy King, Patricia Martin, Robert Parker, Bobby Schmidt, Carolyn Webb, Joanie Enoch, Jane Bayes, Linda Hunt, Carolyn Dean, Elizabeth Dean, and Paul Dean. Those assisting Mrs. Dean were Mrs. Donald Hildenbrand and Mrs. William Bitzer.

Teen Tips

If you boys could peek into the lockers of your favorite sports stars, you'd see a deodorant on the shelf in every one. So where'd you get the idea that it's "sissy" to use one yourself?

It's no secret that fastidious business men use deodorants daily. Now a leading sports editor tells me that every athlete in professional baseball, football and hockey uses a deodorant after every shower. The shower washes away perspiration, but they know that they also need the "protection" that a deodorant gives to prevent unpleasant perspiration odor after the day or evening to come. . .between showers.

Whether you're a star ball player or not, you wear heavy clothes, you're active all day and in the evening and you perspire. Everybody does. So why not follow the example of the sport world's biggest he-man and add a deodorant to your own daily routine . . . making it as much a habit as brushing your teeth.

Some athletes use the cream type of deodorant; others prefer one of the liquids in a plastic bottle with a squeeze-spray top. It's just a matter of personal preference. . . every department and drug store has several of them at prices that will fit your allowance.

Altar Society Plans Activities During Meeting

A Day of Recollection was planned at the meeting of the Altar Society of St. Joseph's Catholic church, when forty members met Wednesday evening in the school. The date was set for Dec. 7, which is the vigil of the Feast of the Immaculate Conception.

During the meeting, the committee was named for the monthly card party, Dec. 18. Names to have charge were Mrs. John J. Carle, Mrs. Lester Hall and Mrs. Jack Lake.

Mrs. Donald Mason and Mrs. Paul Hang announced final plans for the turkey dinner to be given in the basement of the church Nov. 11, Armistice Day.

Olimpiea Fleser Marries Mr. Frye

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fleser's home, Waverly, Route 3, was the setting on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 28, of the wedding of their daughter, Olimpiea, to Ralph Lawrence Frye, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Frye of Ashville. Vows were exchanged before the living room mantel, which was decorated with a bouquet of white gladiolus flanked by two seven branch candelabra. The Rev. Ray C. Duncan was the officiating minister and the service was read before members of the immediate families and close friends.

Following the wedding, a buffet dinner was given at the Fleser home. The bride's table was centered with a two-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. A wreath of greenery and pink carnations encircled the cake. Arrangements of pink dahlias were throughout the room.

The bride, a graduate of Waverly high school, was employed as a secretary at the Waverly offices of the Farm Bureau. Mr. Frye, a graduate of Ashville high school is studying pre-law at Guilford college, Greensboro, N. C.

Ted Sims Feted At Turkey Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Sims of East Mound street entertained recently with a turkey dinner for their son, Ted, who was spending a 15-day leave with his parents. The event was in celebration of his birthday anniversary, which will be Nov. 12.

Attending the dinner were the honored guest, A-2c Harold McClarren, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Sims, Jr. and children, Marguerite, Gay and Richard, George Justus and Leon Sims, all of Circleville.

In seven miles the Niagara River falls 315 feet, which includes Niagara Falls and a series of rapids.

Joseph Peters Elected Head Of Grange Group

Arthur Sark, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Hedges, secretary; James Archer, gatekeeper; Thelma Hines, Ceres; Mrs. Wayne Hines, Pomona; Charlene Dresbach, Flora; Sarah Jane Hedges, lady assistant steward; Mrs. Boyd Fosnaugh, pianist; Carl Bennett, legislative agent; Chester Noecker, trustee, and Mrs. Carl Scothorn, youth chairman.

The group voted to sponsor a basketball team with Ralph Dunkel serving as manager, and Wayne Hines, assistant. A contribution was made to the Veterans hospital, Chillicothe, for their Christmas party.

A Vital Message to Mothers of Growing Children

Most of us take it for granted that our children are well nourished . . . we give them enough food to fill their stomachs and assume they are getting enough nourishment as well.

But recent studies of child nutrition have come up with facts that challenge all our complacency about our family diet.

Children in all income groups partially undernourished

Over the past several years many nutrition studies have been made by private, state and federal agencies . . . including medical examinations of thousands of school children.

These studies showed that—even with the world's finest food supply—more than half our children are not getting all the nourishment they need for peak health. Serious nationwide nutritional deficiencies occur regardless of family income . . . largely because of our poor eating habits.

Bone weakness and tooth decay prevalent

Two of the most widespread problems are bone weakness and tooth decay.

Skeleton X-rays showed that a high percentage of the children had bones that were not as hard or strong as they should be—many even had some bone malformation. In thorough dental examinations most of the children were found to have tooth decay.

U. S. diet needs more calcium

These findings indicate that large percentages of our children are not getting enough of the calcium they need to build strong bones, and teeth that resist decay. Calcium, as you probably know, is found chiefly in milk and milk products . . . it is absolutely essential to growing children.

Yet nutritionists report the American diet is more lacking in calcium than in any other food element.

Bread research finds help for problem

As bakers of bread, our most universal food, the makers of Enriched Tip-Top Bread were in a natural position to help supplement the American diet with needed calcium. And that is exactly what they have done—after a series of careful experiments and consultations with health authorities.

Bone-building element doubled

The bakers of Enriched Tip-Top Bread have now doubled the bone and tooth building calcium in every loaf of New Tip-Top.

From now on when your children eat the New Tip-Top Bread they will get twice as much as before of this element so vital to the nourishment of strong bones and teeth.

New bread helps build up daily quota

Good whole milk, of course, is the first and foremost source of bone and tooth building material—children need at least a quart daily. But the fact is that many children do not drink that much.

Now—by serving the New Tip-Top Bread—you have a pleasing, effective way of reinforcing the essential element, calcium, in your child's diet. Eight slices of this new bread contain bone and tooth building calcium equal to a full glass of milk.

Most children eat that much bread daily as a matter of course. If you make sure your children eat the New Tip-Top Bread, you will automatically help them build up their quota of bone-building, tooth-building nourishment.

ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT TO CHILDREN— ADULTS PROFIT, TOO

The added calcium in the New Tip-Top Bread is of benefit to everyone. For children it increases the supply of bone- and tooth-building material while they are still growing and developing and is an insurance for later years.

For adults, both men and women, the New Tip-Top Bread provides additional calcium to help keep the bone structure strong.

Expectant mothers must have sufficient calcium to protect both themselves and the child.

In addition to calcium . . .

New Tip-Top Bread brings you added milk nourishment with important minerals and high-quality protein essential as tissue building in the young and tissue repair in the adult. The new loaf not only gives you increased nourishment but even more delicious, home-baked flavor.

Davis Claims Policies Fatal For Stevenson

Ray Davis, chairman of Pickaway County Republican executive committee said policies rather than personal quality figured in the defeat of Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president.

He declared:

"I feel that this national victory is not so much a repudiation of Stevenson as a man but rather a repudiation of policies of the Truman administration in Washington."

Davis emphasized his appreciation toward local Republican workers.

"I want to thank every one of them for the splendid work accomplished," he said.

KARL HERRMANN, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, said:

"Of course I want to thank all of those who supported the Democratic ticket. There isn't much more I can say.

"Now that the people have spoken, we'll do our best to support the elected officials."

Unofficial winner over Incumbent Guy Cline in the race for Pickaway County prosecutor, William Ammer, the Republican candidate, said:

"I want to thank everybody for backing me.

"I hope to live up to the confidence expressed by the voters. I'll be available at all times to talk with anyone on any matter relating to the office of county prosecutor."

Youth To Get Front Seat In Stock Show

International Affair To Run In Chicago Nov. 29-Dec. 6

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 — Boys and girls from Farmland U. S. A. will sit among the grownups and professionals showing livestock and crops at the 1952 International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show. Since boys and girls were first permitted to show in the open or adult classes of the show, they have proved that youngsters don't have to take a back seat to anybody.

In all, since 1928, youngsters have shown the grand champion steer at the International ten times, taking their places ahead of people who make their living in feeding cattle and the animal husbandry departments of the agricultural colleges. They have also had grand champion barrows and wether lambs.

Highest price ever paid for a grand champion steer went to the last youngster who showed his calf to top honors—Lloyd Robinson of Big Spring, Texas, who in 1950 took $12 per pound for a total of $12,300 with his finished Hereford block of beef. Like many another youngster before him, Lloyd pocketed his high profits as a nest egg to buy a ranch of his own.

First day of the gigantic show, which will run from Nov. 29 through Dec. 6 in the Chicago Stock Yards, has been designated as "Youth Day." On that day, 350 steers that have survived the weeding or sifting of over 1,000 steers will be shown by boys and girls, ranging from 10 to 20 years of age, in the Junior Livestock Feeding Contest.

YOUNGSTERS will bring their proud champions from regional, state and county shows to the big Chicago livestock classic. Others will show lambs and barrows. Still more will be announced as winners of the Junior Livestock Judging Contest in which boys and girls match their skill in judging cattle, sheep, hogs and draft horses.

Held at the same time as the big livestock spectacle, the National 4-H Club Congress will this year be convening for the 31st time in downtown Chicago. National winners of agricultural and domestic science will be named, and the many panels and festivities will bring the best among several million 4-H youngsters from the United States, Canada and foreign countries.

More than 1,500 of the 4-H visitors will parade in the arena of the amphitheatre during the evening horse show on Wednesday night. Earlier they will be guests of the International Horse Shows in which 13 saddle horse classes are scheduled during the week for boys and girls.

Ohio River Packet Era Nearing End

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The end of the colorful Ohio River packet boat era appears a little closer following the disclosure that the Gordon C. Greene, a stern-wheel steamboat, may be sold soon.

The proposed purchase of the famous old boat for use as a boat hotel at Portsmouth would leave the Delta Queen as the last passenger steamer on the Ohio.

Chambers Ailing As Heart Falters

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6—(AP)—Whittaker Chambers remained in serious condition in a hospital here Thursday, suffering from a heart attack that came last Monday.

Doctors said his condition is expected to stay serious for some time. The 52-year-old Chambers was the government's star witness in sending Alger Hiss to prison.

8 Tutors Quit Episcopal College

SEWANEE, Tenn., Nov. 6—(AP)—Eight faculty members of the University of the South have resigned in protest over a decision by the trustees not to admit Negroes to the theological school.

Their resignations, effective at the end of the current academic year, were accepted Wednesday by Dr. Edward McCrady, vice chancellor of the Episcopal church-supported school.

Cast Selected For Class Play

Nancy Eitel has been chosen to act the title role in "The Curious Savage," a comic fantasy which the junior class of Circleville high school is to present on December 4 and 5.

Other roles will be filled by Marilyn Richards, Marlene Mancini, Jody Storts, David Hoffman, George Troutman, Phyllis Dresbach, George Fry, Art Davis, Sonja Sines and Jim Dancy.

United Airline Engineers Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 — (AP)—A strike Wednesday night of 300 United Airlines flight engineers grounded the line's planes in the United States and Hawaii.

The walkout, termed a "quickie" strike by the airline, grew out of a 10-month-old pay dispute with the AFL Flight Engineers Association. The association said some Pacific Ocean flights were affected, but not the air lift to Korea.

The excitement starts with your first look at it, your first sitting in it, your first fingering of its slender wheel.

But wait till Dynaflow Drive* begins working its magic – and its constant and complete smoothness fills you with never-ending wonder.

Wait till you feel the bubbling exuberance of taking your first hill with a high-compression Fireball 8 Engine doing the honors. That's when you get a man-sized sampling of the tremendously able and instantly responsive power you command here.

Wait till you feel the serene satisfaction of skimming over rough roads, cobbles or ridged crossings. That's when you know, better than words can tell, what a million dollars' worth of ride engineering can do in the way of magnificent comfort.

Wait till you jockey into a real tight parking space and note the fun and ease that Power Steering brings to a once-tough job.

But—why wait?

Plans Now Being Completed For Ike's Korean Inspection

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower is counting on the military to take him on his projected journey to the Korean war zone.

The President-elect said Wednesday he would notify the Defense Department soon of his plans.

Defense Secretary Robert Lovett, Gen. Omar Bradley and other high officials of the Pentagon already have shaped tentative plans to take Eisenhower on his trip.

Although Eisenhower has been one of the nation's most famous soldiers, he no longer holds his five-star commission or any other direct connection with the Army.

When he goes to Korea, presumably well before the inauguration on Jan. 20, he will be a private citizen, not a general and not yet the commander-in-chief.

IN KOREA, Eisenhower will come to grips with the first and perhaps most difficult question of his presidential term:

What to do about an unpopular war almost 28 months old, stalled on a heavily defended front, fought against an enemy with major supply sources outside the theater of combat, and supported by Russia, the potential major and powerful enemy of the United States?

Eisenhower, in his campaigning, made one proposal: assign an increasing amount of the front-line fighting to troops of the South Koreans.

Beyond this, there exists an old and explosive question which figured in the controversy over the ousting of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from Far East command:

Should the United States turn to true strategic warfare in an attempt to destroy the Asiatic Communists war-waging ability and bomb supply centers and airfields in the Chinese homeland?

President Truman and the State Department have rebuffed any such thought, and the Joint Chiefs of Staff have explained the military impracticality of such an operation. However, the administration goes out of office next January and the terms of all but one member of the JCS expires next summer.

With the White House occupied by the general who in World War II commanded more troops than any other American in history, the military has no doubt that the office of commander in chief will be a more directly active one than it has been in a long time.

Taft Believes Split In South Is 'Real One'

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft believes the split in the once-solid South is a "real one," but he doesn't foresee any Southern Democratic leaders moving into the Republican Party right away.

The Ohio Republican, commenting on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's victory for the Presidency, said he did not look for immediate assistance for Republicans in Congress from persons like Price Daniel, the Democratic senator - elect from Texas who supported Eisenhower.

"I believe that this break in the ranks in the South is a real one. It is my opinion that they supported Eisenhower because he is a conservative—doesn't want to take over their schools, tidelands and that sort of thing—but I do not expect any immediate move into our party by Southern leaders," Taft said.

Taft, who lost the GOP nomination to Eisenhower but then toured the country urging Ike's election, hailed the general's victory as a repudiaton of the "Fair Deal," corruption and pro-Communism.

Taft indicated he expected to stay in his present position as head of the vital Senate Republican Policy Committee.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Many Thanks— Voters!

Dean Of House Dies After His 24th Election

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Adolph J. Sabath, one-time poor immigrant boy who rose to serve 45 unbroken years in Congress—more than any other man in history—died early Thursday.

The 86-year-old Democratic dean of the House, known as "the congressman with a golden heart," had just been elected Tuesday to his 24th straight term from a district in the heart of Chicago.

Sabath had served under eight Presidents, starting with Theodore Roosevelt in 1907.

For many years he had been chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee, which decides what bills come up for vote.

He was author of a workman's compensation act, sponsor of the first old age pension plan, champion of Social Security benefits and the eight-hour work day.

Sabath saved pennies as a sawmill helper in Czechoslovakia, to pay his way to America.

He expressed his role of helping the underprivileged this way:

"The oppressed—those are the ones who need it; the big fellows - hey don't need it."

152 Convicts Are Moved To Camp Perry

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The more cooperative of Ohio Penitentiary's riotous inmates spent their first day Thursday at Camp Perry on Lake Erie in peaceful contrast to five days of bedlam at the strife-torn pen.

The remainder of the convicts, including the most troublesome of the fire-setting and rioting prisoners, were quiet in their wrecked cellblocks in the penitentiary.

The quiet was welcome after days of strife that began last Friday and resulted in a $1 million blaze, one dead convict, four wounded prisoners and an injured patrolman.

Maj. Gen. Albert Henderson, Ohio adjutant general in charge of security at Camp Perry, said the trip was without incident.

The 152 prisoners were transported in five buses. Two State Highway Patrol cars led the procession. Three carloads of armed patrolmen brought up the rear.

Another 450 prisoners will be transported to Perry in a day or two. The camp could accommodate more than 1,000 men.

American Tourist Has Rough Time Getting Scrambled Eggs In Italy

By HAL BOYLE

ROME—(AP)—If you think there has been any real progress in worldwide understanding, try ordering scrambled eggs in a foreign country sometime.

This is one problem the Marshall Plan has failed to cope with.

On our first morning of a vacation visit to Italy Frances said, "Let's give ourselves a real treat and have breakfast in bed. I'd like to have something light—some orange juice and toast and tea, and—oh, yes — some ham and a couple of scrambled eggs."

"I thought you said something light. How about a small watermelon and a couple of roast beef sandwiches, too? You may want a snack to tide you over until lunch."

"Don't be so smarty so early in the day," said Frances. "I'll bet you don't even know how to call the waiter."

She was wrong there. I already had seen a small box with three the buttons were the figures of a waiter, a chambermaid and a hotel porter. Masterfully, I pushed the waiter button, and sure enough in he came—so quickly I wondered if he had been shot in by a catapult.

A little unnerved by this sudden service, I mumbled "orange-o juiceo, tea, toasto"—the waiter smiled and nodded.

"—Scrambled eggs-o," I finished. A look of polite mystery came over the waiter's face.

"He doesn't understand you, Rover," said Francis helpfully.

"I'll try him in French," I said. "All waiters speak French, and if I remember my freshman French the word for egg is oeuf."

I held up four fingers and said, "oeuf, oeuf, ouef, ouef." The waiter looked even more puzzled.

"What grade did you get in French?" asked Frances. "Are you sure you are pronouncing it right?"

"Wuff! Wuff! Wuff!! Wuff!!"

The waiter backed away in alarm.

"Now you've frightened him," said Frances. "He thinks you're barking at him, Rover. Would it be any easier for you if I took those roast beef sandwiches?"

"No. He might never come back if I start mooing at him,"

I got out a piece of paper and drew a picture of a hen, and held it out to the waiter. He approached warily, looked at the picture, smiled — and then clapped his hands.

"Now he thinks you want him to applaud your drawing," said Frances. "I don't think it looks like a hen. It looks more like a rooster."

I took the picture back and carefully drew four eggs under the hen, then madly began pointing from the eggs to myself, to Frances and then to the waiter. A light dawned in his eyes at last.

"He's got it," said Frances. I leaned back limply.

A few minutes later the waiter returned with a tray. He looked on proudly as Frances uncovered her dish, and wailed:

"They're sunny side up. They look like two big floating red eyes staring up at me. I simply can't eat. Honey, could you. . . .?"

"I'll try," I said weakly. I pointed at the eggs, then stood on my head and flailed my hands wildly. The waiter grinned, picked up the tray, and left.

When he returned a second time, Frances picked the lid off the dish. Silence.

"Now what?"

"He just turned the eggs over."

I took four pieces of paper and drew an egg on each. Then I tore the sheets of paper up and scrambled them all over in a ball and held them out hopefully.

Success. The waiter's face fairly shone. Back he soon came with the eggs properly scrambled. Ah, ah, ah! We shook hands all around. Frances was so happy she said she was willing to overlook the fact there was no ham with them, and I said that was fine because I hadn't the strength left to imitate a squealing pig.

A few minutes later Frances started chuckling.

"What's so funny?"

"Well," she said, tomorrow I am going to order poached eggs. And I was just thinking of the expression on that waiter's face when you start trying to act like a poached egg for him. It may even bring back vaudeville."

at the candidates, their wives, sisters, sons and mothers-in-law. But what one gains from a few minutes' glance at a President-to-be, is difficult to appraise. Actually, the various candidates looked like a lot of very tired men who could do with a night's good sleep.

Usually, as the long campaign proceeds the managers get into a wrangle over who gives the last word. The Democrats in New York, for instance, were in a hassle between the regulars and the volunteers that reached a state of high comedy in Madison Square Garden when the volunteers put on their vaudeville, with a band blaring, while the candidate for U. S. Senator, John L. Cashmore, was delivering what was to him the most important address of his campaign.

Cashmore had to shut up because he could not compete with mummers, most of whom exhibited themselves in Madison Square Garden before, that time for Eisenhower.

Maybe I am all wrong about what a campaign is about. Maybe it is meant to be lots of fun. The ever-growing role that is being played in campaigns by actors, movie writers, musical comedy composers, dancers and Hollywood jester somehow gives the impression that the Presidential election is becoming one big joke.

On whom?

Since shortly after World War II, U.S. military airplanes have flown to the North Pole far more than 500 times.

Antitoxin May Cause Reaction

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IF a person cuts himself and the wound becomes dirty, or contacts material that might possibly be infected, he should be given an antitoxin against lockjaw (tetanus). Tetanus antitoxin has saved the lives of many accident victims who might otherwise have gone into the spasms of this deadly infection.

Unfortunately, this antitoxin causes more or less distress in quite a number of people. This reaction, known as serum sickness, may appear from eight to twelve days after an injection, and the larger the dose, the more likely the reaction. Some severe reactions can even occur a day or two after an injection.

Test for Allergy

Some tetanus antitoxin is made of horse serum, which causes reactions more frequently than any other type of serum.

Before an antitoxin is given for tetanus, it is the rule to test the person's skin to see if he is allergic. This is usually a safe method to determine if serum sickness will develop later.

When the sickness does occur, red wheals often appear on the skin, or the condition known as urticaria. There may be fever lasting a few days and a severe aching in all the joints. The glands become enlarged, and the person may have difficulty eating and breathing. He may sneeze, cough, even have convulsions.

The discomfort usually lasts several days. It is also possible for the blood pressure to fall very low.

Immunization Advised

It is important for all children to be immunized against lockjaw with tetanus toxoid. Then they would not need any antitoxin when they suffered a wound. Many infants are now immunized, as are the members of the armed forces.

When serum sickness occurs, the antihistamine drugs and epinephrine are usually of help. In some cases, these drugs only relieve the symptoms for a short time.

Excellent results have been obtained by treating serum sickness with ACTH and cortisone. These drugs do not cure the sickness, but relieve distress until the reaction wears off.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G. M.: I have been advised to have an operation for the relief of osteomyelitis. Do you think this is necessary?

Answer: Osteomyelitis is an infection of the bone, caused by a germ. It sometimes follows a throat infection, but may occur after an injury to the leg, such as a fracture.

Usually, if osteomyelitis is discovered early, the giving of high doses of penicillin and the other antibiotics will remedy this disorder. However, if a great amount of bone destruction has taken place, operation may be necessary, as well as treatment with penicillin and other antibiotics.

Tigers Ending Practice, Ready For Tilt With Lion Powerhouse

Circleville's Red and Black football team will run into a really rugged foe Friday night when it tangles with the point-a-minute Washington C. H. powerhouse.

Tiger gridders will wind up their final practice session of the season Thursday night with an under-the-lights session on the local field.

Local gridders will go into Friday's season-ending game with nothing to lose, pitting their season mark of three wins in eight starts against the unblemished record of eight wins without a loss of the Blue Lions.

The Tigers to date have won from Holy Rosary, Greenfield and Westerville, while losing to Linden McKinley, Wilmington, Hillsboro, Grandview and St. Charles.

WASHINGTON, spearheaded by Carl Smith, has tallied a total of 452 points in its eight victories to date, scoring more than one point per minute of playing time.

In addition, the Lions have collected a grand total of 3,008 yards on the ground in the season while limiting their foes to a meagre total of only 105 yards. In many cases, the Blue Lion foes ended the games with minus yardage.

Only three teams during the season have scored against the Lions, now fourth-ranking high school team in Ohio.

List of the Washington victories is: 59-0 over Linden McKinley; 38-13 over Xenia; 81-0 over Monroe; 46-0 over Greenfield; 60-6 over Hillsboro; 77-6 over Wilmington; 59-0 over Dayton Kiser; and 32-0 over Bexley.

Smith, star of the Lion lineup, has personally scored 264 points this season, exceeding the mark of 259 registered by Circleville's famed Sandy Hill and only 6 points away from the all-time Ohio high school mark.

Washington will lose 18 of its powerhouse team to graduation following Friday's test, while Circleville will drop only eight.

By virtue of the large graduating list, Washington may well leave its first string team in for the majority of the final encounter.

A huge crowd is expected to be on hand for the game. Giving local fans a chance to get seats, Washington has sent a block of 300 adult tickets, including some reserved ducats, to Circleville high school, where they may be purchased.

Gametime of Friday's final match of the season will be 8 p. m.

Breeding Hogs To Give Better Crop If Tested

Farmers choosing hogs for Fall breeding should have them tested now for brucellosis to protect farm family health as well as to assure a better Spring pig crop.

Brucellosis - infected swine have been found to be a prime source of undulant fever among farm families," experts say.

Blood-testing the hogs on a farm is now becoming routine practice with many owners, both as a health and a profit measure.

Experts recommended hogs which react to the blood test should either be sent to slaughter or kept in isolation, depending on the veterinarian's judgment. Further tests should then be continued at regular periods until no reactors are found.

If any breeding swine show signs of bad joints or lameness, it is also recommended they be given a health checkup.

LAMENESS and defective joints can be symptoms of erysipelas, infectious arthritis, brucellosis, or nutritional deficiencies. Experts point out accurate diagnosis is necessary to determine the nature of the disease so steps may be taken to protect the rest of the drove.

Keeneland Sale Nets $2 Million

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 6—(AP)—A $2 million thoroughbred horse sale in which 973 yearlings, breeding stock and horses of other ages traded hands closed at Keeneland Wednesday night.

The 412 horses sold this week returned $803,200 for an average of $1,950. There were 552 yearlings in last week's auction with the total $1,225,800, an average of $2,221.

'Copter Pilot Is 'Retriever'

SEOUL, Nov. 6—(AP)—A new sport in Korea is hunting from helicopters.

One general, going to and from the front, has run up a bag, said his pilot, of "two foxes, three pheasants, 12 ducks and two geese." Asked if the general ever took his hunting dog along, the pilot said: "Hell no, I'm the retriever."

AP Guesspert Admits His Average Slips

He Had Only 36 Right Last Week, But Tries To Pick Winners Again

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—Who says that picking football winners is as easy as picking apples? Not this forecaster, who had only 36 correct selections in 49 decisions last Saturday. That's an average of .735.

Last Saturday's debacle dragged the seasonal mark down to .771 on figures of 229 won, 68 lost. Here are the uninsured winners of this weekend's games as seen by this guesspert:

Michigan State over Indiana: NCAA statistics show that Michigan State has the most fearsome attack in the land. The statistics say nothing about Indiana's defense.

(Editor's Note: Claassen's colleague, Jerry Liska, predicts the score will be Michigan State 28, Indiana 7.)

Oklahoma over Notre Dame: Quarterback Crowder and center Catlin, Oklahoma's C-C boys, to turn the tide even though the game is played in South Bend. The game is your TV morsel Saturday afternoon. It should be just about the best game you'll get to see in your living room all season.

(Liska guesses the score will be: Oklahoma 8, Notre Dame 19).

GEORGIA TECH over Army: Two teams of whirlwind speed. In addition to all that speed Georgia Tech has an awesome backfield trio in Turner, Teas and Hardiman.

UCLA over Oregon State: Should be easy unless UCLA relaxes too much.

(Liska disagrees, says Pitt will dump the Bucks, 21-14, observing that the Panthers have claws).

Purdue over Minnesota: There is at least one upset in the Big 10 but this doesn't appear to be the place for it. Purdue on its way to the Rose Bowl.

(Liska picks Purdue to score a 21-13 victory).

Duke over Navy: A squeaker.

Texas over Baylor: Arkansas beat Baylor, Texas crushed Arkansas. Off comparative scores.

Penn over Georgia: Some day those Quakers will break loose and this could be the Saturday.

Princeton over Harvard: The venerable Big Three series is resumed and for the first time in a decade all have fashionable records. Princeton, however, has met the stauncher opponents.

Finishing the rest in a hurry:

Saturday—

East: Trinity over Amherst, Fordham over Clemson, Connecticut over Brown, Columbia over Dartmouth, Holy Cross over Colgate, Rutgers over Lafayette, Maine over Bowdoin, Syracuse over Penn State, Coast Guard over RPI, Temple over Boston University, Wesleyan over Williams.

Midwest: Toledo over Bradley, Michigan over Cornell, Colorado over Missouri, Iowa State over Drake, Illinois over Iowa, Wisconsin over Northwestern, Villanova over Tulsa, Wyoming over Kansas State.

South: Alabama over Chattanooga, Kentucky over Tulane, Auburn over Mississippi State, Washington & Lee over North Carolina State, Furman over Presbyterian, Davidson over Richmond, South Carolina over The Citadel, Virginia over North Carolina, West Virginia over VMI, William and Mary over VPI.

Southwest: Mississippi over Houston, Rice over Arkansas, Southern Methodist over Texas A & M, Texas Christian over Wake Forest.

Far West: Washington over California, Idaho over Montana, New Mexico over Denver, Colorado A and M over Utah, Washington State over Oregon.

Bowl Game Scramble Opens; Only 1 Of 'Top 10' Eligible

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The scramble for teams for the Jan. 1 football bowl spectacles is on with New Orleans' Sugar Bowl out in front of the pack.

Georgia Tech, unbeaten, untied and unsurpassed at the moment as a bowl attraction, agreed to play in the Sugar Bowl Wednesday, thus becoming one of the earliest bowl-bound teams since the New Year's Day classics were started.

Who the powerful Engineers, third-ranked in the Associated Press poll, will meet is anybody's guess.

The Rose Bowl in Pasadena, granddaddy of the January spectacles, will, of course, match the Pacific Coast Conference and Big Ten champions. Dallas' Cotton Bowl will have the Southwest Conference winner as host team. But the three conference races are far from settled, and nobody can say for sure at this date who'll be defending conference honors Jan. 1.

THE MIAMI Orange Bowl, fourth of the big four bowls, will hold a committee meeting this week and members declined to discuss any possible teams until then. A spokesman commented, however, that "November is an important month in football and we want to pick the best teams."

A rundown of the top 10 teams shows that only one other team, eighth-ranked Tennessee, is eligible for a bowl bid. The Volunteers, who have appeared in many bowl games, are still trying to live down an early season loss to Duke, which was whomped, 28-7, by Georgia Tech last Saturday.

Michigan State, No. 1, is a member of the Big Ten, although not eligible for conference football competition until next year. Maryland, No. 2, is barred by a Southern Conference ruling against bowls.

Oklahoma, No. 4, and Kansas, No. 7, are members of the Big Seven, which frowns on bowls, while UCLA, No. 5 will meet sixth-ranked Southern California Nov. 22 in the battle for Pacific Coast honors.

Purdue, No. 9, is the current favorite to meet the UCLA-USC winner in the Rose Bowl, and Notre Dame, No. 10, does not go in for bowl games.

Bulldogs Open Cage Wars With 80-61 Victory

New Holland's Bulldogs registered a power-packed 80-61 victory over host Madison Mills cagers Wednesday night in their first official game of the season.

The Bulldogs opened the encounter with a 16-11 edge, swelling the lead to 38-26 at the half-way mark and posting a lopsided 60-39 margin going into the final frame.

It was the first performance for the New Hollanders under the tutelage of Coach Robert Melick.

High scorers for the Bulldog quintet in the test were Kenneth Kirk and Don Campbell, tied with 15 points each. Tops for the Madison Mills team was Gerald Stilling with 14.

Bulldog reservists fell by a 35-19 count in the preliminary. Roy Heacox scored five points to lead scoring for the junior Bulldogs.

Bucks Polish Ground Attack

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6—(AP)—Coach Woody Hayes had his Ohio State Buckeyes concentrate on ground work Wednesday in preparation for Saturday's invasion by the University of Pittsburgh Panthers.

Hayes said the Bucks' ground work was not up to the standard of their passing offense. Seven first-string players are bruised, but Hayes said he expected all of them to be able to play against Pitt.

Frisco Yardage Tops In League

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers held top position in the total yardage gained race in the National Football League during the first half of the season with a total of 2,196 yards.

The 49ers gained 1,318 yards rushing and 878 passing to lead the Cleveland Browns who have registered 2,046 yards on 795 rushing and 1,251 passing. Green Bay is a close third with a total of 2,014.

Ground-Breaking Ceremony Due At 3 P.M. Sunday For Hospital

A big ground-breaking ceremony is planned for 3 p. m. at Berger hospital, where a new $303,000 building and remodeling program will begin Monday.

The special program arranged for the ceremony will begin with a welcoming address by Mayor Ed Amey, president of the board of commissioners.

The mayor then will introduce the Rev. Donald Mitchell of Presbyterian program, who will deliver invocation.

Next will be introduction of the other members of the hospital board. They will be Richard Simkins, Robert L. Brehmer, Dr. Edwin S. Shane, Harry Heffner, Dr. R. S. Hosler, D. A. Marshall, Howard Koch and Durward Dowden.

IN ADDITION, representatives of various local organizations which have contributed largely to the success of the proposed building program will be introduced.

They will be Dr. Shane, president of the Pickaway County Medical Society; Emmitt Crist, Pickaway County Bar Association; Mrs. Joseph Bell, Berger hospital General Guild; and William Goode, Pickaway County commissioner.

Following that will be introduction of the mayors of the villages of the County.

The Mayors are Raymond Lindsey of Ashville, George Finch of Commercial Point, Forbes Rohrer of Darbyville, Harold Speakman of New Holland, Walter Heise of South Bloomfield, George Karshner of Tarlton and William Johnson of Williamsport.

Next will be intrduction of F. F. Freshwater of Freshwater and Harrison, architects; and George Sever of Sever-Williams construction Co., winners of 5he contract.

Robert L. Brehmer will then be presented. He served as a member of the original board and now is vice-president of the group. He will review the history of the hospital.

Next to be introduced will be Mrs. Margaret Bradbury, new superintendent of the hospital. Mrs. Bradbury will outline the significance of the new building program.

ALSO TO give remarks will be Mrs. Bell, Guild chairman, and Mrs. Darlene Seymour, great niece of the late Frank Berger, whose contribution paved the way for the formation of the hospital.

Msgr. George Mason of St. Joseph's church will conduct the consecration ceremony, and Mrs. Seymour will present spades to Mayor Amey and Commissioner Goode, who will break the ground.

The Rev. T. W. Brown of First Baptist church will deliver benediction.

Truman Offering Ike His Airplane

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP) — President Truman invited the victorious Dwight D. Eisenhower Wednesday to use the White House plane, the "Independence," for a flight to Korea.

Eisenhower's announcement he would go to Korea in an effort to find a way of bringing the war to an honorable end was a highlight of the bitter campaign.

"The Independence will be at your disposal if you will desire to go to Korea," Truman said.

Eisenhower promptly replied that he will use a military plane to fly to Korea, and will notify the defense secretary of his departure as early as possible.

Wilmington Print Company Is Sold

WILMINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—All stock of the Wilmington Publishing Co. has been sold to Lewis A. Sutton and Howard MacDonald, officials of the concern for several years.

Sellers were W. J. Galvin, Wayne W. Galvin and the Wilmington News Journal Co. The firm which was sold is a commercial printing company which occupies quarters adjoining the News Journal building. These quarters will be vacated by the printing firm which will move to another location, leaving the newspaper more elbow room.

'Oscar' Going To University

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6—(AP)—The movie "Oscar" that Hattie McDaniel won for her performance in "Gone With The Wind" is to be placed in the keeping of Howard University in Washington, D. C.

The will of the Negro actress was filed here for probate, disposing of less than $10,000 to a few relatives and friends. She left $1 to her former husband, Larry C. Williams.

Three Persons Meet Violent Deaths Here Wednesday

Dayton Pair Killed When Plane Falls

5-Place Ship Crashes Into Cemetery Here

A Dayton couple was killed here Wednesday afternoon as the result of an airplane crash in St. Joseph's cemetery.

They were identified as Floyd Ressler Garrison, 50, of Dayton Route 5, the owner; and Mrs. Doris Radcliffe Hufford, 38, of 326 West First street, Dayton.

The couple was killed when their five-place Stinson aircraft plummetted to the ground in the cemetery at about 2:15 p. m. Wednesday.

Garrison was pronounced dead at the scene of the crash, while Mrs. Hufford died about two hours later in Berger hospital.

Observers at Elsea airfield just north of the city limits said the Garrison plane had just taken off. Garrison made the trip from Dayton to check on repair work to another of his planes at the Harmon-Schelb hangar.

THE OBSERVERS said the Garrison plane rose about 400 feet over the ground and then went into a steep climb.

In the climb, the plane lost airspeed and stalled, twisting to the ground out of control. The ship clipped off a tree in the cemetery as it struck the ground.

The airplane was demolished in the crash. It did not catch fire, however, although Circleville firemen were called to the scene as a precautionary measure.

Deputy James Diltz, who investigated the crash, said Garrison was dead at the scene and Mrs. Hufford was rushed into the hospital, still able to talk.

Pickaway County Coroner Ned Griner said Mrs. Hufford died of multiple fracture of her limbs, chest and skull; and Garrison died of multiple fractures.

After emergency vehicles arrived at the scene and the bodies removed, the area was roped off until the wreckage was inspected by the CAA.

Deaths of the Dayton pair brought to four the number of persons who have lost their lives in the immediate vicinity in the last 19 months.

IN MAY, 1951, a pilot lost his life when his airship plunged into adjoining Forest cemetery and burned. Earlier this year a spray plane pilot lost his life when his ship stalled and fell into a soybean patch just north of the Elsea field.

Mrs. Hufford was a house detective for the Sears-Roebuck company. She was a widow.

She was born July 1, 1914, in Albany, Athens County, daughter of Frank and Wilma Hart Radcliffe. She is survived by two brothers and two sisters. Her body was transferred from Defenbaugh Funeral Home to a funeral home in Albany.

Garrison was married and operated a household appliance store near Dayton.

He was born Jan. 11, 1902, in Miamisburg, son of Bert and Edna Ressler Garrison. He is survived by his widow. His body was transferred from Defenbaugh Funeral Home to a Dayton funeral home.

Author Honored

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The Royal Swedish Academy Thursday awarded the 1952 Nobel Prize for literature to French novelist Francois Mauriac, a leading contemporary author.

No 'Expert's' Ear Heard Ike Rush Coming

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—Several newspaper surveys outdid the professional pollsters this year on the presidential election, no "experts" ear caught the rumble of the advancing Eisenhower landslide.

The Gallup, Roper and Crossley polls all seemed to give Dwight D. Eisenhower an edge during the hours before Tuesday's election. But none flatly picked him.

The only professional poll that did was Kenneth Fink's Princeton Research Service. But his margin was far short of the actual one.

An Associated Press survey of editors across the nation showed Eisenhower the probable winner in 20 states, and with an edge in eight, with a total of 327 electoral votes. He actually carried all 28.

Samuel Lubell, who surveyed pre-election sentiment for the Scripps-Howard newspapers, said in advance that Eisenhower "should win." Lubell terms himself a reporter and not a pollster, and he said he rang doorbells in strategic communities. He found a definite switch from those who voted for President Truman in 1948 to Eisenhower in 1952.

"There never was any doubt in my mind about Eisenhower," he said of the election gave the general 39 states and 442 electoral votes. Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson got nine states, 89 electoral votes.

Savage Fight In Korea Now Slacking Off

SEOUL, Nov. 4—(AP)—The savage fighting that has raged over the frozen hills north of Kumhwa for 24 days slackened off Thursday. Battered assault forces retired to rest and regroup.

For the moment at least, neither side showed any will to renew the bloody central front struggle.

South Korean troops held grimly to Sniper Ridge after throwing back a predawn assault by 150 Chinese Reds. The attack, relatively light for that sector, was the only Communist offensive move in 24 hours.

The Reds held the crest of nearby Triangle Hill without opposition. Allied leaders ordered the South Koreans to halt their suicide charges up the slope and called instead for artillery barrages.

An artillery officer said Allied big gunpower had been built up in the Kumhwa sector to equal that of the battle of Hurtgen Forest in Germany in World War II. When Allied troops launched their limited offensive against the Kumhwa ridges last month, they ran into an amazing concentration of Red artillery and for the first time in the Korean war were outgunned.

Fighting for the shell-scarred slopes has been costly in men and materials. The Reds have lost more than 12,000 killed and wounded. UN losses have not been announced, but they are severe.

Some Ike-Backers 'Down In Dumps'

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 6—(AP)—Some Ike supporters are down in the dumps. Four at the University of California are—by a judge's orders.

The four—Terry A. Walsh, 18; Daniel H. Power, 20; Karel A. Smith, 21, and Ted Moriarity, 22—were nabbed by police while setting Eisenhower victory bonfires. Their sentence: four days raking refuse at the city dump.

20-Year-Old Father Killed By Automobile

Local Authorities Holding Motorist For Investigation

A 20-year-old father enroute to Columbus with his wife and friends to get his infant son from Children's hospital was fatally injured at about 8:10 p. m. Wednesday when struck by a hit-skip auto just north of Circleville.

He was identified as Kenneth Eugene Huston, 20, of Jackson Route 3. Coroner Ned Griner said death resulted from a fractured neck and fractured leg.

Huston was rushed from the scene of the accident into Berger hospital. He died, however, just after entering the hospital.

Pickaway County authorities Thursday were holding a 41-year-old motorist for investigation in connection with the accident.

THE MOTORIST was arrested just south of Columbus on Route 23 by state highway patrolman shortly after the accident "in a state of intoxication."

Sheriff Charles Radcliff said the right front headlight and fender of his auto were damaged. Tests were being conducted Thursday to determine whether it was his car which struck Huston.

Deputy Jim Diltz, who investigated the fatal mishap, said the accident happened four miles north of Circleville on Route 23, just south of Clay's restaurant.

He said Huston, his wife and mother had been riding toward Columbus in an auto operated by Hubert Vance of near Jackson.

Just south of Clay's, the right rear tire of the Vance car went flat. The tire was removed, and Huston said he would roll it up to the restaurant to have it filled with air.

As he rolled the tire along the east side of the highway heading north, off the paved highway several feet, he was struck by an unidentified northbound auto. The accident happened about 400 yards north of the spot the tire was changed.

Witness to the accident was Charles Styers of Circleville, who was driving southward at the time. Styers told the deputy he saw the auto strike Huston. He supplied a description.

HUSTON was thrown into a farm fence about 10 feet to the right and fell to the ground.

Children's hospital reported the 5-week-old Huston baby had been ill with an intestinal disorder. He was to have been released Wednesday night.

Unofficial Vote Count Matches Official Tally

Unofficial vote totals listed Wednesday by Pickaway County's board of elections following the huge vote here Tuesday showed the true picture of local results.

Elections board officials Thursday said the unofficial tabulation was correct except for several minor changes which do not affect announced outcomes.

And the official counting showed the proposed city sewage levy was defeated by the 2.8 percent margin indicated by the unofficial tabulations.

Following announcement of defeat of the levy Wednesday, vitally interested parties in the northend suggested the possibility of a recount since the apparent defeat was by such a narrow margin.

MRS. NELLIE Stout, clerk to the elections panel, said a recount is possible when the challengers post a deposit of $10 for each precinct questioned.

The money will be refunded, she added, if a certain percentage of errors is discovered.

Atom-Area Gets Rental Controls

Older rental housing has been controlled in parts of the four-county Ohio area. The new order covers those sections of Ross, Pike, Jackson, and Scioto Counties not now controlled. It also extends coverage to newer rental units, converted housing, auto courts, hotels and motels.

ELECTION SHOWS NATION SHOUTING: 'I LIKE IKE'

Lausche Sets Two Records In Reelection

Governor's Plurality Over Taft Runs More Than 422,000 Votes

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche, lone Democratic survivor of a statewide Republican sweep, set two Ohio election records. He became the first governor to win a fourth term and he did it with a record plurality for that office.

With only a handful of the state's 10,877 polling places incomplete after Tuesday's record balloting, Lausche paced Republican Charles P. Taft, brother of Sen. Robert A. Taft, by more than 422,000 votes.

GOP Sen. John W. Bricker set the previous record of 379,000 in the 1942 race for his third term as governor.

Bricker, 1944 vice presidential nominee, won reelection in what he termed his last campaign, by a margin of more than 343,000 over Michael V. DiSalle, President Truman's former price stabilizer.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower ran away with Ohio's 25 presidential electoral votes. He had a 504,000 bulge over Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee.

TRUMAN CARRIED the state by a 7,000-vote margin in 1948 and it went Republican by 11,000 in 1944.

Attorney General C. William O'Neill looked like a good bet to surpass Ike's margin in winning reelection over Democrat Paul W. Ward. O'Neill had a majority of about 300 votes greater than Eisenhower's with some 200 more polling places missing than in the presidential count.

The nearly completed statewide tabulation approached a total vote of 3,700,000 well ahead of the previous 1940 record of 3,319,000.

The count fell short of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's forecast of 3,950,000, based largely on record registrations.

The vote deluge left the political complexion of Ohio's congressional delegation unchanged. Republicans kept their 16 House seats, the Democrats five and the lone independent, nominally a Democrat, won reelection.

The Ohio delegation will include the first mother-son combination ever sent to Congress. The team is composed of Mrs. Frances Bolton, 22nd District in Cuyahoga County and her son, Oliver, who won his first race in Northeastern Ohio's newly created 11th District.

New Congress To See Very Thin Control By Republicans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—Congress has returned to Republican control by a margin so thin that President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower probably will depend upon bipartisan support to put through many of his policies.

While the general was winning with a landslide vote Tuesday, his supporters fought bitterly and in some cases neck and neck for seats in the 83rd Congress, which will consider major international and domestic problems next year.

Eight congressional races went into vote-by-vote counting, with at least three of them dependent upon absentee ballots from throughout the world, including Korea. In some close races, defeated candidates have indicated they may contest the outcome.

Complete Senate returns gave the Republicans 48 seats and the Democrats 47. Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who resigned from the Republican Party to support Democrat Adlai Stevenson, was listed as an independent with possibly a decisive vote.

The Democrats held a 49-47 edge in the 82nd Congress. In the last Republican-controlled (80th) Congress of 1947, the GOP had a 51-45 advantage in the Senate.

Republicans Tuesday won 220 House seats, two more than necessary for control. The Democrats took 206 but one of these became vacant with the death early Thursday of Rep. Sabath (D-Ill), dean of the House, who had just been elected to his 24th consecutive term. A House vacancy can be filled only by a special election.

One independent who usually votes with the Democrats was re-elected, and Democrats were leading in all eight undecided districts.

The Democrats held 232 House seats in the last Congress, but this advantage was largely nullified by an anti-Truman voting coalition of Republicans and Dixiecrats.

In 1947, the Republicans controlled the House by a 245-188 margin, with one vacancy and one American Labor Party member.

The victory gives the GOP a voting edge, particularly if Southern Democratic support continues, but the Republicans will gain greater power by controlling committee chairmanships and other top positions in both houses. From these posts, GOP leaders can direct the progress of legislation.

The new Congress faces basic decisions on how much money to spend on foreign aid and the military buildup, whether to continue high tax rates and what to do about expiring wage and price controls.

Many of the top Republicans in Congress favored reducing the nation's foreign commitments below the minimum that Eisenhower has said was safe.

The Republicans captured 23 of the 35 Senate seats at stake, with the Democrats winning 12. This was a net GOP gain of two seats.

Four incumbent Republicans were beaten—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, who was Eisenhower's preconvention campaign manager; James P. Kem of Missouri; Harry Cain of Washington and Zales Ecton of Montana.

Four Democratic senators also were overturned—Ernest McFarland of Arizona, the majority leader; the veteran Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming; William Benton of Connecticut and Thomas Underwood of Kentucky.

Patrick Hurley Defeated Again

ALBUQUERQUE, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Democratic Sen. Dennis Chavez has won reelection over Republican challenger Patrick J. Hurley for the second straight time.

Chavez, head of the Senate Public Works Committee, led 121,563 to 117,018 in the unofficial count with all but 13 of the state's 894 divisions reported. Declining to concede, Hurley, former secretary of war and ambassador to China, had ballot boxes in four northern counties impounded. The counties gave Chavez about 2,700 votes of his lead.

State Senator Winners Reported

Tenth — Pickaway, Franklin: Robert H. Shaw (R), Wilbur L. Shull (R).

General Given Millions More Ballots Than Any Other Candidate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower is basking, now that the election is over—basking under (1) the Georgia sun and (2) the warmth that comes with having shattered all records for drawing American voter acclaim.

Eisenhower, however, lost no time in pushing politics into the background. He headed for Augusta, Ga., for a politics-free 10-day vacation.

It may not be entirely politics-free since many major decisions must be made before he takes the oath of office next January. It is Cabinet-picking time, for instance.

A cold appraisal of election statistics leads to the conclusion that Eisenhower enjoys a nationwide popularity to which no other man in history could lay claim.

The political fires which blazed across this nation for four long months have been reduced to embers and it is time to examine statistics.

HERE ARE SOME things the statistics show:

1. Eisenhower received more votes than any presidential candidate in history, millions more, than any other. Too, the total vote was the greatest ever recorded.

2. His immense vote - appeal swept into office with him a majority, although slim, of Republican candidates for the Senate, the House of Representatives and for governors of the several states.

3. His electoral vote total was the second highest ever piled up by a Republican—just a shade under the total accumulated by Herbert Hoover in 1928 when religious prejudice against his opponent, Alfred E. Smith, a Roman Catholic, figured prominently in the returns.

4. Eisenhower shattered the once "Solid South," winning three of the most staunchly Democratic states in the country and apparently adding four of the almost-always Democratic border states.

5. He punctured the Democratic strongholds of Massachusetts and Rhode Island where Irish-Catholic citizens have voted in blocs for the Democrats for 25 years.

Of the nation's 146,361 voting units, all but 10,842 had been tabulated by daybreak Thursday. Eisenhower had piled up a vote total of 31,875,451 compared to 25,668,925 for Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic opponent.

The previous high was piled up by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936 who got 27,751,597 in his race with Alf M. Landon.

Tuesday's incomplete total vote cast for both Eisenhower and Stevenson added up to 57,544,367, compared with the previous record of 49,820,312 in 1940

Public Meeting On Bypass Plan For Route 23 Planned Thursday

Circleville residents, still recovering from their election activities, will turn their attention again Thursday night to the issue of a proposed bypass for Route 23.

A public meeting on the state's plan to reroute the highway around the western side of the city is scheduled for 8 p. m. Thursday in Pickaway County common pleas courtroom.

Leaders for the two opposing factions on the bypass issue indicated early Thursday that they will "make plans as we go along" during the session.

Council President Ben Gordon was out of the city Thursday morning but was expected back in time for the meeting. When plans for the public meeting were agreed upon at a council session some time ago it was generally understood all council members would be on hand for the discussion.

REPRESENTATIVES of the state highway department will be at the meeting to explain details of the state's proposal. They are expected to bring with them estimates and other data needed to answer the queries of interested groups.

Local residents were cautioned that plans to discuss details of the bypass at this time do not mean that the project is planned for the near future.

It may be, some have pointed out, that state officials merely want to "pin down" decisions on the proposal so that work can be expedited when its turn in the priority line comes due.

At the same time, Gordon some time ago expressed the opinion that the meeting Thursday night may be decisive, inasmuch as it may be the local public's major opportunity to air views pro and con on the plan.

Approval Given For Boost Here

Ohio's board of tax appeals Thursday gave approval for the recent increase of tax valuations throughout Pickaway County.

Ordered by the department of taxation this Summer to increase local real estate valuations for tax purposes, county officials made a complete 15 percent value boost.

The local hike amounted to a $5.6 million boost, increasing the county valuation from $34.02 million to $39.63 million.

County Auditor Fred Tipton received notice Thursday that the increase was considered sufficient by the state.

Russia Protests Newest U.S. Sea Defense Zone Off Korea

MOSCOW, Nov. 6—(AP)—A Russian note to Washington charges the United States with an illegal and aggressive new blockade in Korean waters and warns that the United States must take the "responsibility for consequences."

Moscow radio Wednesday broadcast the text of the terse 350-word note and announced that it was delivered by the Russian embassy in Washington Tuesday.

The State Department acknowledged receipt of the protest but diplomatic and naval officials declined comment until it is studied.

The Soviet Union objected to an order Sept. 27 by UN Commander Gen. Mark Clark which established a "sea defense zone" in South Korean waters to "eliminate infiltration of enemy agents" into Allied prisoner of war camps on Koje and other Korean islands, as well as to prevent attacks on the South Korean coast, protect UN command lines of communications and halt smuggling.

Clark said investigations of the prisoner riots on the islands "have shown conclusively they were instigated and abetted by enemy agents, landed from small boats and carrying instructions from Communist headquarters in North Korea."

The Russian note contended that establishment of the zone "represents a violation of the freedom of sea, trade in the open sea and also a violation of the rights of the USSR and other states."

It charged that the order was "a new act of aggression in the Far East," which "proves once again that the U. S. government is not only unwilling to stop the war in Korea, but is following the path of new acts of aggression."

U.S. State Department Heads To Roll As Ike Goes On Job

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—The State Department, target of Republican attack for six years, is getting ready to face the inevitable a Republican shakeup.

Probably no other agency in Washington outside the White House was so stunned by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's election victory Tuesday. Unquestionably it meant that heads will roll.

Estimates of the number of high officials and diplomats who will get the ax range up to 100 or more.

That Secretary Dean Acheson is out, no one disputes. He has planned for months to return to his Washington law practice whether Eisenhower or Gov. Adlai Stevenson succeeded Truman. The top echelon under Acheson embraces upwards of 20 persons, including an under secretary, deputies, and assistant secretaries.

In addition there are men who have been closely identified with Acheson's policies, such as Philip Jessup, ambassador at large, and policy planning chief Paul Nitze, former Wall Street banker.

Abroad a total of 72 ambassadors and ministers head up U. S. diplomatic missions. Of those, department officials said, approximately 50 are career foreign service officers and the rest are political appointees.

Many changes in foreign posts are expected to be worked out by the Eisenhower administration over the first few months of next year.

The speculation is that he will accept resignations of all the political appointees including such ambassadors as Richard C. Patterson Jr. in Switzerland, Charles Ulrich Bay in Norway, Walter S. Gifford in Britain, William O'Dwyer in Mexico and Pete Jarman in Australia.

Local Voters 'Talk Off' Big Race

Circleville's "hangover day" following ups and wowns of the election returns developed a wide variety of views Thursday on what-might-have-been and what the future will bring politically.

Rehashing of the vote returns was a popular occupation in all sections of the city.

Brunt of the burden that still lingers from the election fell as usual upon offices of the election board here where Clerk Nellie Stout and her aides were faced with the task of completing official tabulations.

Main policy enforced by Mrs. Stout was to "take first things first" in the process of answering numerous queries and the inevitable aftermath problems.

MAYOR ED Amey, an early caller at the office, was jokingly told he could take off his "campaign button" now that the excitement was over.

"But that isn't a political campaign button," the mayor assured his listeners. "Today I'm working for the Boy Scouts. Anybody want to contribute?"

For the most part, however, talk centered on how the various candidates won, why some of them lost, and what the results may be when the next vote test comes around.

It was apparent all over the downtown section that many views haven't been changed by the election decisions.

But it was widely agreed the "closest call" on election day should be marked up to a Republican who almost placed a friendly bet after being needled Tuesday by a Democrat who assured him:

"All the banks will be closed exactly eight months from today."

And just as the Republican reached for his money, it dawned on him that eight months from election day would be Fourth of July, when all banks close for a national holiday.

Brannan Sees No Farm Shift

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said today he does not believe the farm vote swung as heavily to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as did other segments of the population.

Asked what he thought was the major reason for Eisenhower's election, Brannan replied: "I think it was the women's vote based upon promises, implied or otherwise, to bring an end to Korea."

Property Owners Told Drive On Sidewalks Gets Tougher

Dewey Speakman, city service director, reminded Circleville property owners Thursday the drive against faulty sidewalks is nearing the compulsory stage.

Speakman some time ago notified the public a "crackdown" was in the making to bring about long overdue sidewalk repairs.

He said appeals for cooperation have not brought desired results and warned that the city can "take over" and have sidewalks fixed if property owners fail to do so. In such cases, costs of the work would be placed on the property owner's tax duplicate.

"The response to my last statement on this subject has been very encouraging," Speakman said. "Many people have called me for information and advice in regard to their sidewalks, and I've made it clear the city is willing to help all it can.

"HOWEVER, WE knew from the start that some property owners would figure this is just another bluff and that they'd wait again until the idea blows over.

"This time, I can assure them, it isn't going to blow over. In fact, we have already started to study the legal angles involved in making sidewalk repairs compulsory here."

Speakman said "about eight or nine" local property owners have already fixed their sidewalks in response to his last notification.

In some instances, he added, property owners are waiting until they can obtain cement and other supplies before they make repairs—and that consideration will be shown for those cases.

At the same time, he stressed that inability to get supplies "can't always be the excuse—and we'll be able to find out whether it's a valid excuse or not."

For property owners who have broken or uneven brick sidewalks, Speakman said, the city's request can be met if the bricks are "leveled up" and the surface made reasonably smooth. He added it may be necessary to cut off portions of tree roots to make such repairs.

A suit asking $6,398.69 in damages allegedly suffered as result of a defective sidewalk on East High street is on file against the city.

Ike Accepts Truman Peace Talk Offer

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 6 — (AP)— Gen. Dwight Eisenhower has accepted President Truman's suggestion for a conference on the problem of peace.

Eisenhower replied to an invitation from Truman to meet with him in the White House.

The President-elect said he needs some time for "conversations and conferences leading up to the designation of important assistants." Therefore, his message continued, "I respectfully suggest we tentatively plan the proposed meeting for the early part of the week beginning Nov. 17."

Eisenhower sent the message from his vacation headquarters at the Augusta National Golf Club where he arrived Wednesday for a 10-day rest.

Truman proposed an early discussion at the White House on the problem of world peace. In the earlier message he reminded Eisenhower that the next national budget is being prepared and suggested that Eisenhower have a representative confer with the director of the budget.

The general replied:

"I shall try to arrange within the next two or three days to have a personal representative to sit with the director."

He gave no indication of the man he may choose for that job.

Eisenhower's aides were silent on the President's second proposal for a discussion of peace problems.

Eisenhower's personal idea for a beginning is to go to Korea himself to study the situation there and search for a solution.

Scout Campaign Now Underway

Leaders of Pickaway County met early Thursday for an "early bird" breakfast in First EUB church service center, kickoff to a day-long Boy Scout finance campaign.

A large crowd of men attended the special breakfast program and heard an address by Dr. H. L. Yochum, dean of Capital university.

Following the breakfast, the men began a day-long canvass throughout the county seeking funds for the Boy Scout program here. Last year's drive netted $2,900.

Firemen Extinguish Two Grass Blazes

Two of the three calls answered by Circleville fire department Wednesday resulted from grass fires.

The third alarm, at 2:28 p. m., took the firefighters to the scene of a fatal plane crash in St. Joseph Cemetery. Two persons were killed. Wreckage of the aircraft did not burn.

At about 5:10 p. m. the department extinguished a grass fire at Huston court. Twenty minutes later, the township truck checked a similar blaze in the Cedar Heights area of Circleville Township.

In the Electoral College, where Presidents actually are chosen, Eisenhower has won 442 votes against 89 for Stevenson. Some states might yet swing over to Stevenson.

Returns put the Democratic presidential nominee ahead in only nine states. There was a chance Stevenson might yet lose one of those nine states—Kentucky. If so, his electoral vote total would fall to 79.

With 116 precincts missing, Stevenson led in Kentucky by 1,527 votes. He had a popular vote of 484,036 to 482,509 for Eisenhower.

THESE ARE THE states where Stevenson led (electoral votes in parentheses):

Alabama (11); Arkansas (8); Georgia (12); Kentucky (10); Louisiana (10); Mississippi (8); North Carolina (14); South Carolina (8); West Virginia (8).

All these states have a long tradition of going for the Democrats.

Whether Eisenhower will retain his tremendous popularity through the next four years remains to be seen. His majorities in both houses of Congress are very thin indeed—48 to 47 in the Senate and, at this moment, 220 to 214 in the House.

Eight races in the House have not yet been decided, but Democrats are leading in all of those contests and if they all win, the 220-214 alignment will result.

Republicans gained five governors in Tuesday's voting, boosting their lead in the state's guvernatorial mansions from two to 12. That ratio will hold if the two races still in doubt, in Michigan and Montana, go the way they are headed now.

Before the voting, there were 25 Republican governors and 23 Democrats. Now there are 29 GOP governors and 17 Democrats.

There are other statistics available for those who like such things:

EISENHOWER is the oldest Republican ever elected to the White House, although three earlier presidents were older on taking office. They were William Henry Harrison, 68; James Buchanan, 65, and Zachary Taylor, 64. The general is 62.

Eisenhower is the first Texan ever elected President.

He is the 12th general to be elected.

And he is the first man to be elected who has four syllables in his last name. Newspaper headline writers know this already.

As for picking his Cabinet, the first for any Republican in 24 years, Eisenhower has a wealth of material.

He once said he might appoint a qualified Negro to the Cabinet, but there is no indication he still is intrigued by that idea.

Among Cabinet prospects could be listed Govs. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, Earl Warren of California, Edward F. Arn of Kansas, Dan Thornton of Colorado, Sens. Henry Cabot Lodg Jr., defeated for reelection in Massachusetts, Frank Carlson of Kansas, Fred Seaton of Nebraska, James Duff of Pennsylvania, John Foster Dulles, former State Department adviser; Paul G. Hoffman, former Marshall Plan director; retired Gen. Lucius Clay and GOP National Chairman Arthur Summerfield.

SUMMERFIELD says he wants to go back to his automobile business in Michigan and Lodge says he would like to go back into the newspaper business. He formerly was a reporter.

Eisenhower has talked about putting a woman in the Cabinet and Oveta Culp Hobby, co-publisher of the Houston, Tex., Post and Mary Lord, co-chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, have been mentioned in this connection.

It is a domestic issues, outside of his announced intention to act in an executive capacity to clean out Communism and corruption in Washington, that Eisenhower will face his greatest test in Congress.

PERHAPS THE general's program on that score was best spelled out when he met with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in New York in September. Taft said then he couldn't agree with all of Eisenhower's foreign policy views, but said differences were only on degrees.

Taft said in a statement which Eisenhower endorsed that there must be a reduction in federal spending and in taxes.

Wednesday Taft said in Cincinnati that the tremendous majority given to Eisenhower "shows the determination of the people to restore a government believing in American principles of liberty as opposed to the growing bureaucracy, spending and taxation of the so-called Fair Deal.

"That feeling was intensified by the resentment against the corruption in the Truman administration and the pro-Communist foreign policy which built up Russia and brought about the Korean war."

The President-elect has agreed to send a representative to sit in with President Truman's experts in the drafting of the budget to be submitted to Congress in January. This budget will have a great deal to do with any tax reduction.

Taft, who will be the actual if not nominal leader of the Republicans in the Senate, has said the budget ought to be cut from $79 billon this year back to $70 billion in the next year, with a goal of $60 billion the following year.

He and Eisenhower agreed, the Ohio senator said, that there should be some amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act, but that its "basic principles" were sound.

DEATHS And Funerals

HENRY C. RENICK

Henry C. Renick, 90, died at 6:15 p. m. Wednesday in his home on Pontious Lane.

Mr. Renick was a retired farmer and a member of Presbyterian church.

He was born May 6, 1862, in Jackson Township, son of John and Amanda Buckles Renick.

His first wife, Emma Rice Renick, preceded him in death, and on March 8, 1898, he married Catharine Adkins Renick, who survives. He was also preceded in death by a son, J. Fred Renick.

Other survivors are two sons, Attorney Tom A. Renick of Circleville and Donald Van Meter Renick of Grand Rapids, Mich.; two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Renick Gregory of Lodge Grass, Mont., and Mrs. Vernon S. Lilly of Detroit, Mich.; 11 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are to be completed by Mader Funeral Home.

MRS. BESSEY DAVIDSON

Mrs. Bessey Mae Davidson, 64, died Wednesday in her home in South Bloomfield.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Fred Prushing and Nancy Alberta Davidson; a son, Roliff Wolford, of Circleville Route 3; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in South Bloomfield Methodist church. Burial will be in South Bloomfield cemetery, by direction of the A. J. Hott Co., Commercial Point.

Friends may call in the residence in South Bloomfield after Friday noon.

Woman Injured In Auto Crash

A Laurelville woman suffered severe lacerations late Wednesday in an auto accident about nine miles east of Circleville on Route 56.

Deputy Jim Diltz said the crash happened at about 6:30 p. m. when an auto operated by Thomas Wiggins, 38, of Laurelville, left the highway and crashed into a stump.

Mrs. Virginia Wiggins, 35, a passenger, was treated in Berger hospital for a severely lacerated right knee and lacerated forehead.

Lausche Sets Two Records

The only statewide issue on the ballot met a thumbs-down decision from the voters. A majority of nearly 800,000 rejected a proposal for a convention to consider changing the state constitution. They turned down a similar proposal in 1932. The question goes on the ballot every 20 years.

Ohio's legislature remained overwhelmingly Republican on the basis of incomplete returns.

Tabulations showed 101 Republicans and 35 Democrats elected to the house; 22 Republicans and five Democrats to the senate.

The last legislature had 98 Republicans, 36 Democrats and one independent (nominally a Democrat) in the house. The Senate had 26 Republicans and six Democrats.

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

When a tot begins to play with other children, he has a hard time learning to share his playthings.

"It's mine!" he may shout in anger when another youngster begins to handle a toy of his, especially if the second child attempts to take the toy from the grasp of its owner.

Even when the young owner has neglected a certain plaything for a long while, he may want to play with it himself at once when a playmate finds it attractive.

In the meanwhile, the playmate may try hard to seize and handle any toy of the young owner that appeals to him; and once he gets this toy in his hands he considers it his as long as he likes, and may resist the efforts of its owner to recover it.

The best time and place to begin to teach your little tot to share his things is when another little child comes into your home to play with him. In order to learn to share, he must have a plaything of his very own.

If he takes it to a playmate's home, it will be harder for you, as you can see, to lead him to share it with his little host; and if he takes it with him to a public playplace, still harder.

SUPPOSE you know your child is about to have his first visit from a playmate. You would want your child to have ready a few, not many, of his most sturdy toys.

If your child is playing with one of his toys, say a truck or car, and the playmate tries to seize it, you would not command your child to give it up. Instead, you would try to divert the playmate to another toy. Failing to do so, you might find it wise to prevent the playmate from appropriating the toy.

In the meanwhile, you would try to persuade your child to be ready after a little while to let the playmate have this toy for a period while your child plays with another toy.

And if your child did thus share, you would be generous in your approval of him. As you thus respect and protect your little child's sense of ownership, he will feel secure enough to be ready by-and-by to share.

If the playmate's mother, being present, were wise, she would command her child not to seize your child's toy till he (the owner) were willing to give it up. Should you be a guest with your little child in another young child's home, you also would restrain your child from infringing on the ownership of the child visited.

Real progress at sharing is made when two tots begin to exchange the use of several toys.

In the home with several young children, the earliest problem is to teach the youngest not to appropriate or mess up the things of the older children, and the older ones to respect his possessions.

In general, we should not command the young child to share his playthings, but prevail patiently upon him to do so and set the stage so he will.

Q. When a certain very destructive child is about to arrive, in our home, I prompt my child, four, to put away a few of his most cherished playthings. Do you approve?

A. Yes.

3 Voters Die In Train Crash

JACKSON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Three persons, driving to the polls to cast their votes, died Tuesday when their auto collided with a locomotive at Keystone Crossing, four miles south of here.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad police identified the dead as Henry Clayton Jones, 67; his wife, Lynn, 58; and Mrs. Dora Davis, 62; all of Jackson Route 7. A fourth person in the car, Mary Davis, daughter of Mrs. Davis, was injured critically.

Army Cooks Bag Pair Of Reds

Industry Sees Big Tire Year

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The rubber industry expects to sell more tires next year whether times are good or bad, and no matter what President-elect Dwight Eisenhower and Congress do.

Industry leaders base this prediction on the fact that in 1950 and 1951 the auto industry sold a record number of new cars. And just about next year those purchasers have to start replacing the original tires on them.

Congratulations

and Best Wishes to

Weekly Food Review

By Associated Press

Reductions in retail food prices appeared to out-number rises this week.

Pork, lamb, eggs and citrus fruits were lower in many stores. Chickens and several tender vegetables advanced. Beef was generally steady except where prices were affected by special reductions to attract customers.

Fresh pork prices were trimmed as much as 16 cents a pound in leading stores. The spring crop of pigs is reaching market age and hog slaughter has climbed seasonally Pork loins and hams were meat specials in many places.

Legs of lamb, lamb shoulders and lamb chops also were being widely featured with prices down as much as eight cents a pound.

Receipts of frying and broiling chickens recently have been reflecting a decline in chicken production last summer when prices were low. This situation has firmed the current market.

IN SOME STORES this week, fryers, were up eight cents a pound, but the average was about three cents.

Turkey prices held about steady, but with consumption reported good, a price uptrend was anticipated by many dealers preparing to stock up for the big pre-Thanksgiving Day buying.

Aside from a marked drop in prices of grapefruit and most oranges, reflecting increased shipments, most prices on produce counters were a little higher.

Receipts of new vegetables from the South were not yet in large enough volume to offset the seasonal loss from nearby growing regions, and rains in the South reduced what limited supplies were available.

Snap beans, broccoli, cucumbers, eggplant and peppers were higher. So were cabbage and spinach, but these were still in the good buy class, along with beets, winter squash, and escarole and endive. Lettuce and tomatoes advanced in many stores.

CAPT. RICHARD SAKAKIDA, U. S. Air Force intelligence, leaves federal court in New York, where he testified that former U. S. Army Sgt. John David Provoo told him four days after Pearl Harbor that America was at fault in the war with Japan. When Corregidor fell, Sakakida added, he heard Provoo offer his services to the Japanese. Provoo is on trial on treason charges, accused of informing on American POWs in a Japanese prisoner camp. (International)

AIR SAFETY DEVICES

THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD has requested aviation interests to submit comments no later than November 24 on a series of safety proposals recommended by its Bureau of Safety Regulation.

While the proposals are largely technical, and thus should be weighed only by those experienced in aeronautical sciences, at least two, from the standpoint of the layman, would seem to be common sense approaches to improving air safety.

CAB proposes, for example, that air transports be equipped with alarms to warn of inadvertent or unwanted reversal of propellers in flight. This recommendation stems in large measure from CAB's findings as to the cause of the third transport crash in Elizabeth, N. J., last February.

CAB determined the right inboard propeller of the ill-fated plane had reversed. This produced a tremendous, unwanted braking force in flight. The crew, apparently unsure which of two propellers might be in reverse, shut down the wrong one. "Under these conditions," CAB reported, "the aircraft did not maintain altitude and settled rapidly." In short, it crashd.

Now CAB would require a device to give specific warning as to which propeller had slipped into reverse. While it is true changes have been made since the accident to make propeller systems more failsafe, the addition of warning devices still makes sense. Nothing should be allowed to detract from reversing as an on-the-ground braking safety system.

CAB also proposes to increase the flashing frequency of aircraft position lights. This also makes sense. Too often are "near misses" reported between aircraft in flight, particularly during poor visibility conditions. Stronger lights, it is suggested, would reduce the hazard.

The over-all proposals now being circularized for comment represent a step forward in air safety. Other recommendations, including those by the Doolittle Commission, are being considered for inclusion in the Civil Air Regulations. The aim, both commendable and needed, is to improve air safety.

The world is full of mistaken ideas, like the one that everything would be all right when Hitler, Tojo and Mussolini were defeated.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Now that the election campaign is over, it ought to be clear to Americans that the business of electing a President is too expensive, too time-consuming, too hampering of the conduct of the ordinary affairs of the nation.

It is impossible to approximate the cost of the election. The various reports made by candidates and by political parties of their receipts and expenditures do not represent a third of the actual cost of these campaigns. Large numbers of national and local committees make independent reports which seem trivial and are not noted.

Totalled up, for the entire country, they are enormous. Labor unions do not report their political expenditures as a rule because they are "educational." Much money is passed under the table in cash to avoid identification as well as to evade legal limitations. Everybody denies the giving or receipt of unlisted contributions but they are no secret in the market-place.

If the conventions were held around Labor Day and the campaign were limited, by agreement, to one month, from October 1 to November 1, with a few days of silent interval between the last day of oratory and the day of voting, the people would have a chance to think for themselves without the constant din. About two-thirds of the expense would be saved. It would seem as though the only beneficiaries of the endless yak-yak on radio and television are the networks which charge enormously for their facilities.

If the campaign were cut to one month, the candidates would not have to repeat themselves endlessly on the same subject. They might even have some time to write their own speeches and do some thinking. One reason that the speeches become increasingly dull as the campaign proceeds is that the ghost-writers, weary of endless conferences, endless pounding on typewriters, endless editorial meetings with each writer fighting for his gems of thought and expression.

Stevenson's ghost-writers were superior to Eisenhower's, although the product of both was fairly poor in thought and organization. Stevenson used Robert Sherwood of the Roosevelt regime, Professor Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., of Harvard and the A.D.A. and Leonard Spiegelglass of MGM, the movie company, among others. These are professional word-slingers. Eisenhower used the old Dewey team which had lost for him twice, Stanly High of the "Readers Digest" and about anybody who would lend a hand.

How much if any of these speeches were written by the candidates themselves will never be known; they were very few. The speech mills turned out hundreds of them, not only for the candidates but for side speakers. A man who delivers 10 or 12 short and long speeches between breakfast and bed-time is usually too word-drunk to know what he is talking about.

It was thought that with the advent of television, the "whistle-stop" could be eliminated. Actually there was more whistle-stopping in this campaign than ever before. And everybody got into the game to the delight of the railroads. Maybe it is good politics for the people to have a look

THE inspection at Fort Pierre was only a formality. The Pride of Kansas had been making good time and had passed there the day before. Captain Dudley had recounted what had happened and spoken in glowing terms of the part played by Rawls. His presence was enough to satisfy the authorities that all was as it should be.

Which was an ironic compliment. Rawls would have preferred to have both cargoes confiscated, for that would put a period to contemplated mischief. But with Kathleen a hostage for his own conduct, he dared not denounce the others. Better to wait for another opportunity. It was a long way to Fort Benton.

He anticipated a rigorous inspection when Fort Union was reached, near the mouth of the Yellowstone. That was not only orders, but it was the beginning of the really dangerous country, where contraband cargo was concerned. But as they neared the border between Dakota and Montana territories the Astrid dropped behind, so that only one boat would be visible at a time. McQuestion came aboard the Varina, and gave instructions to wait, then to proceed by night. Rawls eyed him in amazement.

"Do you aim to try to run past the fort in the dark?" he asked. "They'll be on the lookout for such a trick—they'll know that we're coming. It's risky business. In fact, I'd say it was virtually impossible. The Missouri narrows just above its junction with the Yellowstone, which gives mighty little leeway for slipping past."

"Never mind," McQuestion grunted. "Do as I say, and we'll see."

He volunteered nothing more until the broad push of the Yellowstone sent its beat against the Missouri, seeming to be the larger stream at this point. Then he gave his order.

Rawls was startled. The Yellowstone was a forbidden river in a hostile land, reserved half by treaty and half by unwritten law to the Indians, taboo to white men. Swinging south and west, it was a broad watercourse draining a vast country. Such streams as the Powder, the Tongue, and the Big Horn flowed to join it. And here, ironically enough, it was the turgid tide of the Yellowstone that changed the Missouri from a clear, sparkling stream to a yellowish flood, altering it to the Big Muddy.

"You're familiar with the Yellowstone, aren't you?" McQuestion prodded.

"I've traveled it to some extent," Rawls conceded. "Though as to saying that I know it, that's something else. I suppose you realize that you're taking your life in your hands—the lives of everyone—in making a venture like this?"

McQuestion shrugged. "Any job that's apt to pay big money is a risk," he said. "That's never stopped me yet."

"I don't mind it being your funeral," Rawls said drily, "but there are others to think of."

He was not alone in his pessimism. Astrid was gay, these days, coolly rebuffing Whirter, seeking anew to win the favor of Denny. To that end, she tried also to win the confidence of Narcissus, who had taken a real liking to Rawls. Her approach was oblique.

"I understand that you can read the future in tea leaves, Narcissus," Astrid murmured. "I've always been interested in anything like that. Would you read my future for me?"

Narcissus regarded her disapprovingly, turning from the unfriendly shores to a survey of the Astrid, its bow cleaving the water not far astern, paddle wheel making a froth where it passed.

"I'm sure I would," Astrid insisted. "Won't you try it, please?"

"All I do is read the tea," Narcissus warned. "What it tell not my business."

She made her preparations, while Astrid watched eagerly, but with a growing feeling of apprehension which she could not down. The clear amber liquid looked harmless, the leaves in the bottom of the cup no different from others which she had seen on numerous occasions. But as Narcissus drank the tea and stared somberly into the depths, Astrid realized suddenly that this was an alien and unfriendly land. It was as though giant forces had been set in motion which, like the river, could neither be checked nor controlled.

"Trouble," she intoned. "Trouble in the cup. Full up and spillin' over. You sowin' plenty trouble long way back. Now them seeds a-sproutin'."

Astrid strove to see, to have a look in the cup. It fell with a crash, splintering, a tiny dark stain spreading on the deck. Narcissus said not a word, but her eyes were burning. The angrily defiant words died unspoken on Astrid's tongue. Turning, she stumbled away.

It was easy to remind herself that tea leaves were only superstition, that she was Astrid McQuestion who had always gotten what she wanted, and that her father would continue to indulge her whims. She had made a misstep back in St. Louis—but she had realized it and wanted only to rectify it. Denny Rawls had loved her then. She had been desirable in his eyes, and she was unchanged now. She'd show Narcissus that tea leaves meant nothing. The thing to do was put an end to doubt and hesitation by going to Denny and getting this straightened out. That would make everything all right, and she'd lose no more time.

But Rawls was not in the pilothouse. The long-faced Taber was at the wheel, with the Varina barely creeping against the current, as uncertain in the bright sunshine as though it had been midnight.

"Cap'n Rawls is sick," he replied to her query. "He tried to steer, but he was pale as a rag and near as limp. And sweatin', Sweatin' and shakin' at the same time." He shook his head. "I don't like it. We'll be in trouble if anything happens to him. Ever see a dirtier stream? You can't make out what it hides, no more'n if we was sailin' on tar."

"If he's sick, I'll go see him," Astrid said quickly. "He may need something."

Earnshaw was coming up, and he stopped her.

"He's asleep now. I hope he feels better when he wakes up. Better not disturb him." He took the wheel from Taber, scowled at the water, and looked back at her.

"I don't like this," he said bluntly. "I don't suppose Rawls knows much more what's down under here than the rest of us, but he seems to know by instinct where there's trouble. Somehow he keeps us going, though it must be a terrific strain. But Mr. Whirter insists that we keep moving, regardless. It's risky business without a pliot. Couldn't you talk to him?"

"Mr. Whirter? I'm afraid not," Astrid said coldly. "I have no influence over him."

From the way Earnshaw looked at her, she could almost read his thoughts. That she could exert influence if she tried; also that she owed it to the rest of them to subjugate her personal feelings to the good of the expedition. But she had no intention of making her peace again with Mark Whirter. It would have to be on his terms—that he become Lomax McQuestion's son-in-law.

That was all that he wanted, actually, or ever had desired her for. He'd worked through her to get McQuestion interested in this venture, the boats, the money and what it could buy. Nothing else counted with Mark Whirter. He was a cold, unfeeling machine, not a man. In his scheme of things, she was just another means to an end.

Wishing she might temper her refusal, she exclaimed suddenly and pointed: "What's that, Mr. Earnshaw? Or who is it? Off there by the shore."

Earnshaw had already seen. It was a man, out just a few feet from the shrouding cottonwoods and dense undergrowth that made a green wall back from the river. The man waved his arms and appeared to be shouting, though the sound was drowned by the noise of the river and the engines.

news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—Campaign and congressional revelations of the unprecedented degree of executive secrecy surrounding the conduct of grave domestic and foreign affairs has precipitated an indignant demand on Capitol Hill for a more vigilant check on the downtown branch of the government. It may be one of the hygienic results of the 1952 struggle.

The American people must now realize that censorship over information vital to their welfare and security, and to which they are entitled, has reached a new high—or—low under the Truman Administration. The Van Fleet letter disclosed a remarkable callousness at letting them know what, if any, steps were being taken to minimize their sons' sacrifices in Korea.

Aside from its political effect, this communication showed that efforts to train the natives were begun intensively only several months ago, despite repeated suggestions from commanders in the field since the invasion began on June 25, 1950.

Finally, it made clear that Presidential power over secret disposition of the nation's lives and treasure must be revised radically.

DISSATISFACTION — Truman's use of confidential Pentagon files in a political effort to discredit General Eisenhower has placed this question in an entirely new light. It has sharpened simmering congressional dissatisfaction with the executive control of governmental data, even though any attempt to loosen the grip may mean a constitutional clash in the courts.

Although Truman has withheld relatively unimportant material from House and Senate investigators clothed with proper authority, he was willing to declassify top-secret material that will give valuable information to the Kremlin for vote-getting purposes. Orders for this action came from the White House, not from Secretary Lovett.

It is easy to imagine the chagrin among key members of the legislative branch, in view of the fact that they have not been able to pry this material from Truman or Acheson files.

STARTLING FACT—The Truman-Van Fleet-Eisenhower incident, as the public thinks less emotionally of campaign developments, will awaken them to the startling fact that they have almost no control of their government's behavior. Even more serious, the Congress they elect cannot serve as watchdog for them.

Despite this temporary and partisan violation of Truman-imposed secrecy codes, his ukases against dissemination of information by civilian departments still stand. These orders against publicity affect such questions as tax reductions and refunds, loans and grants, the pardon of prisoners, favors to friends, foreign deals involving billions of dollars, the handling of natural resources. In fact, almost every field of Federal activity.

KOREAN - LIKE — Even the simplest kind of document has been marked "classified" under Truman's dicta. Washington correspondents have complained of this Kremlin-like condition, but their warnings have been regarded as professional griping. Now, it must be evident that their government is hiding essential facts from the public.

In view of forthcoming proposals for vast and costly undertakings in military and economic adventures overseas, this growing spirit and system of secrecy at the Capital becomes a question of national concern.

Having a firm foundation as a result of Roosevelt-Truman aggrandizement of executive power and audacity, it may become a permanent fixture in government unless checked by the next Congress, with a possible assist from the Supreme Court.

PRESIDENT—Attorney General McGranery and Secretary Snyder, by White House permission, made a gaudy show of granting congressional demands for pertinent material during the campaign. They appeared to cooperate fully with the King and Chelf groups inquiring into Justice and Treasury corruption and favoritism toward Truman cronies. They turned over data hitherto withheld.

But many committee members now suspect that they unbent only to impress the voters before Nov. 4. When the King committee asked for promised data on millions of inside tax deals involving prominent Hollywood figures, Secretary Snyder and Internal Revenue Commissioner Dunlap refused to comply. In order to postpone a pre-election showdown, they skipped to Seattle to attend the swearing-in of a few minor officials.

EXPERIENCE — Members of Congress have no pat answer to this problem of presidential secrecy. The Supreme Court has usually upheld the right of the executive branch to be its own judge in deciding what shall be kept under the lid, both in peace and wartime.

But the legislators' experience with Truman has taught them a lesson on how to handle disdainful and defiant chief executives. Henceforth, officials testifying on measures providing authority or funds for White House agencies will be cross-examined so viciously that it will make the Spanish Inquisition seem like a quiz-kid show on television.

Loyal Daughters Class Has Program At Meeting

"Prayer" Is Theme Of Devotionals

Twenty-one members and guests attended the regular meeting of the Loyal Daughters Class of the Evangelical United Brethren church, Tuesday evening in the service center.

Mrs. R. E. Nau was in charge of the devotions, using "Prayer," as her theme. She read several passages from the New Testament and commented on them.

Mrs. E. L. Pritchard, and Mrs. Elliott Mason gave readings, "I Dreamed A Dream," and "Prayer That Gets Results." Prayers were given by Mrs. Fred Zwicker, Mrs. Porter Martin and the Rev. Carl Wilson.

The president, Mrs. Martin, presided over the business session and added more thoughts on the theme. Following the roll call, payment of dues and reports, Miss Maggie Mavis, chairman of finance committee, gave her report.

Group decided to use envelope folders another year as a means of raising funds and it was also decided to start a fund to buy an electric mixer for use in the kitchen at the service center, and to pay for the painting of the kitchen at the parsonage. A small Christmas gift exchange is planned for the next meeting.

During the social hour, Mrs. Carl Radcliff read, "Missing the Bus," Mrs. Charles Ater read, "Old Farmer Gay Gets Photographed," and "Country Parson," was read by Mrs. Martin. A contest by Mrs. Radcliff was won by Mrs. Pritchard.

A lunch was served by the committee with Mrs. Ater, chairman, Mrs. Nolan Sims Sr., Miss Clara Lathouse, Mrs. Paul Dawson and Mrs. Russell Jones assisting.

Teen Tips

If you boys could peek into the lockers of your favorite sports stars, you'd see a deodorant on the shelf in every one. So where'd you get the idea that it's "sissy" to use one yourself?

It's no secret that fastidious business men use deodorants daily. Now a leading sports editor tells me that every athlete in professional baseball, football and hockey uses a deodorant after every shower. The shower washes away perspiration, but they know that they also need the "protection" that a deodorant gives to prevent unpleasant perspiration odor after the day or evening to come. . .between showers.

Whether you're a star ball player or not, you wear heavy clothes, you're active all day and in the evening and you perspire. Everybody does. So why not follow the example of the sport world's biggest he-man and add a deodorant to your own daily routine . . . making it as much a habit as brushing your teeth.

Some athletes use the cream type of deodorant; others prefer one of the liquids in a plastic bottle with a squeeze-spray top. It's just a matter of personal preference. . . every department and drug store has several of them at prices that will fit your allowance.

Altar Society Plans Activities During Meeting

A Day of Recollection was planned at the meeting of the Altar Society of St. Joseph's Catholic church, when forty members met Wednesday evening in the school. The date was set for Dec. 7, which is the vigil of the Feast of the Immaculate Conception.

During the meeting, the committee was named for the monthly card party, Dec. 18. Names to have charge were Mrs. John J. Carle, Mrs. Lester Hall and Mrs. Jack Lake.

Mrs. Donald Mason and Mrs. Paul Hang announced final plans for the turkey dinner to be given in the basement of the church Nov. 11, Armistice Day.

Olimpiea Fleser Marries Mr. Frye

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fleser's home, Waverly, Route 3, was the setting on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 28, of the wedding of their daughter, Olimpiea, to Ralph Lawrence Frye, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Frye of Ashville. Vows were exchanged before the living room mantel, which was decorated with a bouquet of white gladiolus flanked by two seven branch candelabra. The Rev. Ray C. Duncan was the officiating minister and the service was read before members of the immediate families and close friends.

Following the wedding, a buffet dinner was given at the Fleser home. The bride's table was centered with a two-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. A wreath of greenery and pink carnations encircled the cake. Arrangements of pink dahlias were throughout the room.

The bride, a graduate of Waverly high school, was employed as a secretary at the Waverly offices of the Farm Bureau. Mr. Frye, a graduate of Ashville high school is studying pre-law at Guilford college, Greensboro, N. C.

Ted Sims Feted At Turkey Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Sims of East Mound street entertained recently with a turkey dinner for their son, Ted, who was spending a 15-day leave with his parents. The event was in celebration of his birthday anniversary, which will be Nov. 12.

Attending the dinner were the honored guest, A-2c Harold McClarren, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Sims, Jr. and children, Marguerite, Gay and Richard, George Justus and Leon Sims, all of Circleville.

In seven miles the Niagara River falls 315 feet, which includes Niagara Falls and a series of rapids.

Joseph Peters Elected Head Of Grange Group

Arthur Sark, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Hedges, secretary; James Archer, gatekeeper; Thelma Hines, Ceres; Mrs. Wayne Hines, Pomona; Charlene Dresbach, Flora; Sarah Jane Hedges, lady assistant steward; Mrs. Boyd Fosnaugh, pianist; Carl Bennett, legislative agent; Chester Noecker, trustee, and Mrs. Carl Scothorn, youth chairman.

The group voted to sponsor a basketball team with Ralph Dunkel serving as manager, and Wayne Hines, assistant. A contribution was made to the Veterans hospital, Chillicothe, for their Christmas party.

A VITAL MESSAGE TO MOTHERS OF GROWING CHILDREN

Most of us take it for granted that our children are well nourished... we give them enough food to fill their stomachs and assume they are getting enough nourishment as well.

But recent studies of child nutrition have come up with facts that challenge all our complacency about our family diet.

Children in all income groups partially undernourished

Over the past several years many nutrition studies have been made by private, state and federal agencies . . . including medical examinations of thousands of school children.

These studies showed that—even with the world's finest food supply—more than half our children are not getting all the nourishment they need for peak health. Serious nationwide nutritional deficiencies occur regardless of family income . . . largely because of our poor eating habits.

Bone weakness and tooth decay prevalent

Two of the most widespread problems are bone weakness and tooth decay.

Skeleton X-rays showed that a high percentage of the children had bones that were not as hard or strong as they should be—many even had some bone malformation. In thorough dental examinations most of the children were found to have tooth decay.

U. S. diet needs more calcium

These findings indicate that large percentages of our children are not getting enough of the calcium they need to build strong bones, and teeth that resist decay. Calcium, as you probably know, is found chiefly in milk and milk products . . . it is absolutely essential to growing children.

Yet nutritionists report the American diet is more lacking in calcium than in any other food element.

Bread research finds help for problem

As bakers of bread, our most universal food, the makers of Enriched Tip-Top Bread were in a natural position to help supplement the American diet with needed calcium. And that is exactly what they have done—after a series of careful experiments and consultations with health authorities.

Bone-building element doubled

The bakers of Enriched Tip-Top Bread have now doubled the bone and tooth building calcium in every loaf of New Tip-Top.

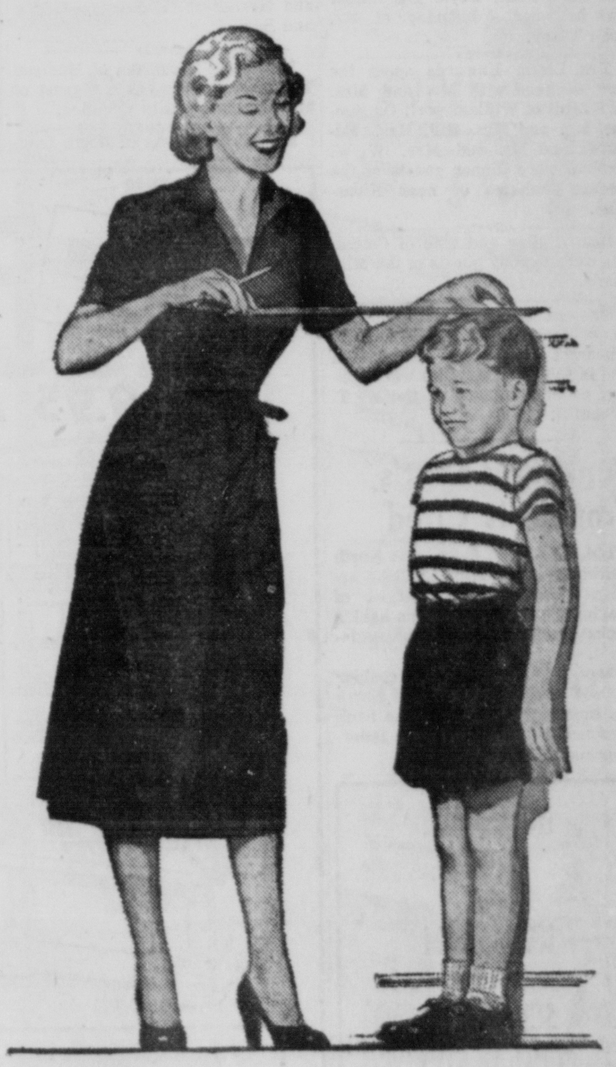
From now on when your children eat the New Tip-Top Bread they will get twice as much as before of this element so vital to the nourishment of strong bones and teeth.

New bread helps build up daily quota

Good whole milk, of course, is the first and foremost source of bone and tooth building material—children need at least a quart daily. But the fact is that many children do not drink that much.

Now—by serving the New Tip-Top Bread—you have a pleasing, effective way of reinforcing the essential element, calcium, in your child's diet. Eight slices of this new bread contain bone and tooth building calcium equal to a full glass of milk.

Most children eat that much bread daily as a matter of course. If you make sure your children eat the New Tip-Top Bread, you will automatically help them build up their quota of bone-building, tooth-building nourishment.



ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT TO CHILDREN— ADULTS PROFIT, TOO

The added calcium in the New Tip-Top Bread is of benefit to everyone. For children it increases the supply of bone- and tooth-building material while they are still growing and developing and is an insurance for later years.

For adults, both men and women, the New Tip-Top Bread provides additional calcium to help keep the bone structure strong.

Expectant mothers must have sufficient calcium to protect both themselves and the child.

In addition to calcium . . .

New Tip-Top Bread brings you added milk nourishment with important minerals and high-quality protein essential to tissue building in the young and tissue repair in the adult. The new loaf not only gives you increased nourishment but even more delicious, home-baked flavor.

Davis Claims Policies Fatal For Stevenson

Ray Davis, chairman of Pickaway County Republican executive committee said policies rather than personal quality figured in the defeat of Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president.

He declared:

"I feel that this national victory is not so much a repudiation of Stevenson as a man but rather a repudiation of policies of the Truman administration in Washington."

Davis emphasized his appreciation toward local Republican workers.

"I want to thank every one of them for the splendid work accomplished," he said.

KARL HERRMANN, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, said:

"Of course I want to thank all of those who supported the Democratic ticket. There isn't much more I can say.

"Now that the people have spoken, we'll do our best to support the elected officials."

Unofficial winner over Incumbent Guy Cline in the race for Pickaway County prosecutor, William Ammer, the Republican candidate, said:

"I want to thank everybody for backing me.

"I hope to live up to the confidence expressed by the voters. I'll be available at all times to talk with anyone on any matter relating to the office of county prosecutor."

Youth To Get Front Seat In Stock Show

International Affair To Run In Chicago Nov. 29-Dec. 6

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 — Boys and girls from Farmland U. S. A. will sit among the grownups and professionals showing livestock and crops at the 1952 International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show. Since boys and girls were first permitted to show in the open or adult classes of the show, they have proved that youngsters don't have to take a back seat to anybody.

In all, since 1928, youngsters have shown the grand champion steer at the International ten times, taking their places ahead of people who make their living in feeding cattle and the animal husbandry departments of the agricultural colleges. They have also had grand champion barrows and wether lambs.

Highest price ever paid for a grand champion steer went to the last youngster who showed his calf to top honors—Lloyd Robinson of Big Spring, Texas, who in 1950 took $12 per pound for a total of $12,300 with his finished Hereford block of beef. Like many another youngster before him, Lloyd pocketed his high profits as a nest egg to buy a ranch of his own.

First day of the gigantic show, which will run from Nov. 29 through Dec. 6 in the Chicago Stock Yards, has been designated as "Youth Day." On that day, 350 steers that have survived the weeding or sifting of over 1,000 steers will be shown by boys and girls, ranging from 10 to 20 years of age, in the Junior Livestock Feeding Contest.

YOUNGSTERS will bring their proud champions from regional, state and county shows to the big Chicago livestock classic. Others will show lambs and barrows. Still more will be announced as winners of the Junior Livestock Judging Contest in which boys and girls match their skill in judging cattle, sheep, hogs and draft horses.

Held at the same time as the big livestock spectacle, the National 4-H Club Congress will this year be convening for the 31st time in downtown Chicago. National winners of agricultural and domestic science will be named, and the many panels and festivities will bring the best among several million 4-H youngsters from the United States, Canada and foreign countries.

More than 1,500 of the 4-H visitors will parade in the arena of the amphitheatre during the evening horse show on Wednesday night. Earlier they will be guests of the International Horse Shows in which 13 saddle horse classes are scheduled during the week for boys and girls.

Ohio River Packet Era Nearing End

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The end of the colorful Ohio River packet boat era appears a little closer following the disclosure that the Gordon C. Greene, a stern-wheel steamboat, may be sold soon.

The proposed purchase of the famous old boat for use as a boat hotel at Portsmouth would leave the Delta Queen as the last passenger steamer on the Ohio.

Chambers Ailing As Heart Falters

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6—(AP)—Whittaker Chambers remained in serious condition in a hospital here Thursday, suffering from a heart attack that came last Monday.

Doctors said his condition is expected to stay serious for some time. The 52-year-old Chambers was the government's star witness in sending Alger Hiss to prison.

8 Tutors Quit Episcopal College

SEWANEE, Tenn., Nov. 6—(AP)—Eight faculty members of the University of the South have resigned in protest over a decision by the trustees not to admit Negroes to the theological school.

Their resignations, effective at the end of the current academic year, were accepted Wednesday by Dr. Edward McCrady, vice chancellor of the Episcopal church-supported school.

Cast Selected For Class Play

Nancy Eitel has been chosen to act the title role in "The Curious Savage," a comic fantasy which the junior class of Circleville high school is to present on December 4 and 5.

Other roles will be filled by Marilyn Richards, Marlene Mancini, Jody Storts, David Hoffman, Dr. Edward McCrady, George Troutman, Phyllis Dresbach, George Fry, Art Davis, Sonja Sines and Jim Dancy.

United Airline Engineers Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 — (AP)—A strike Wednesday night of 300 United Airlines flight engineers grounded the line's planes in the United States and Hawaii.

The walkout, termed a "quickie" strike by the airline, grew out of a 10-month-old pay dispute with the AFL Flight Engineers Association. The association said some Pacific Ocean flights were affected, but not the air lift to Korea.

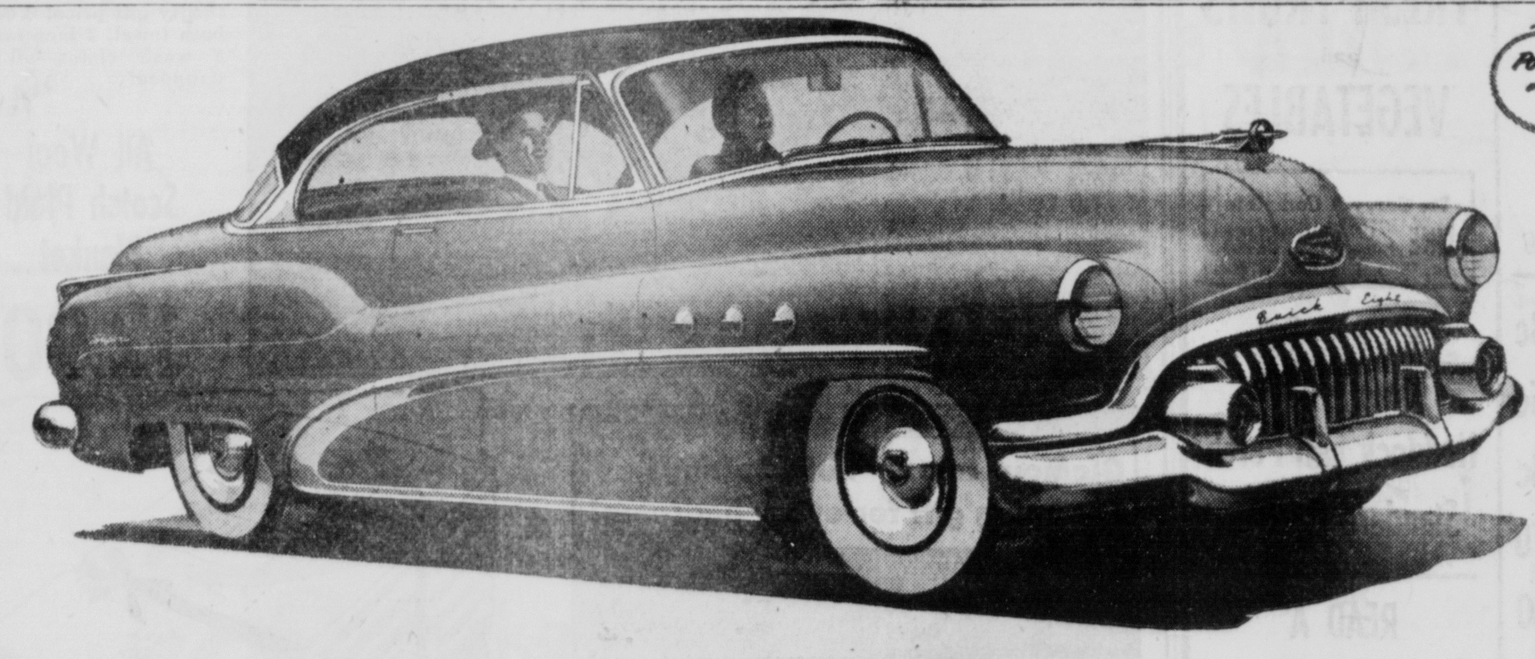
ELECTREX JR. HEATING PAD 3-speed switch, 8-ft. cord. Removable cover. U-L approved. 4.98



Like your travel with a JOYOUS THRILL?

We have news for a lot of folks who want more fun from driving than they get from their present cars.

There's a trim bundle of eager high-powered energy that's just the ticket for you—a spirited automobile that can give you thrill after joyous thrill, for mile after fleeting mile.

Why not come in and try the Buick we have in mind?

The excitement starts with your first look at it, your first sitting in it, your first fingering of its slender wheel.

But wait till Dynaflow Drive* begins working its magic—and its constant and complete smoothness fills you with never-ending wonder.

Wait till you feel the bubbling exuberance of taking your first hill with a high-compression Fireball 8 Engine doing the honors. That's when you get a man-sized sampling of the tremendously able and instantly responsive power you command here.

Wait till you feel the serene satisfaction of skimming over rough roads, cobbles or ridged crossings. That's when you know, better than words can tell, what a million dollars' worth of ride engineering can do in the way of magnificent comfort.

Wait till you jockey into a real tight parking space and note the fun and ease that Power Steering brings to a once-tough job.

But—why wait?

There's a Buick that can do all this—and more, far more—all ready for you to try it.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.

Plans Now Being Completed For Ike's Korean Inspection

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower is counting on the military to take him on his projected journey to the Korean war zone.

The President-elect said Wednesday he would notify the Defense Department soon of his plans.

Defense Secretary Robert Lovett, Gen. Omar Bradley and other high officials of the Pentagon already have shaped tentative plans to take Eisenhower on his trip.

Although Eisenhower has been one of the nation's most famous soldiers, he no longer holds his five-star commission or any other direct connection with the Army.

When he goes to Korea, presumably well before the inauguration on Jan. 20, he will be a private citizen, not a general and not yet the commander-in-chief.

IN KOREA, Eisenhower will come to grips with the first and perhaps most difficult question of his presidential term:

What to do about an unpopular war almost 28 months old, stalled on a heavily defended front, fought against an enemy with major supply sources outside the theater of combat, and supported by Russia, the potential major and powerful enemy of the United States?

Eisenhower, in his campaigning, made one proposal: assign an increasing amount of the front-line fighting to troops of the South Koreans.

Beyond this, there exists an old and explosive question which figured in the controversy over the ousting of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from Far East command:

Should the United States turn to true strategic warfare in an attempt to destroy the Asiatic Communists war-waging ability and bomb supply centers and airfields in the Chinese homeland?

President Truman and the State Department have rebuffed any such thought, and the Joint Chiefs of Staff have explained the military impracticality of such an operation. However, the administration goes out of office next January and the terms of all but one member of the JCS expires next summer.

With the White House occupied by the general who in World War II commanded more troops than any other American in history, the military has no doubt that the office of commander in chief will be a more directly active one than it has been in a long time.

Taft Believes Split In South Is 'Real One'

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft believes the split in the once-solid South is a "real one," but he doesn't foresee any Southern Democratic leaders moving into the Republican Party right away.

The Ohio Republican, commenting on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's victory for the Presidency, said he did not look for immediate assistance for Republicans in Congress from persons like Price Daniel, the Democratic senator - elect from Texas who supported Eisenhower.

"I believe that this break in the ranks in the South is a real one. It is my opinion that they supported Eisenhower because he is a conservative—doesn't want to take over their schools, tidelands and that sort of thing—but I do not expect any immediate move into our party by Southern leaders," Taft said.

Taft, who lost the GOP nomination to Eisenhower but then toured the country urging Ike's election, hailed the general's victory as a repudiaton of the "Fair Deal," corruption and pro-Communism.

Taft indicated he expected to stay in his present position as head of the vital Senate Republican Policy Committee.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowdown of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Dean Of House Dies After His 24th Election

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—Adolph J. Sabath, one-time poor immigrant boy who rose to serve 45 unbroken years in Congress—more than any other man in history—died early Thursday.

The 86-year-old Democratic dean of the House, known as "the congressman with a golden heart," had just been elected Tuesday to his 24th straight term from a district in the heart of Chicago.

Sabath had served under eight Presidents, starting with Theodore Roosevelt in 1907.

For many years he had been chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee, which decides what bills come up for vote.

He was author of a workman's compensation act, sponsor of the first old age pension plan, champion of Social Security benefits and the eight-hour work day.

He expressed his role of helping the underprivileged this way:

"The oppressed—those are the ones who need it; the big fellows - they don't need it."

152 Convicts Are Moved To Camp Perry

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The more cooperative of Ohio Penitentiary's riotous inmates spent their first day Thursday at Camp Perry on Lake Erie in peaceful contrast to five days of bedlam at the strife-torn pen.

The remainder of the convicts, including the most troublesome of the fire-setting and rioting prisoners, were quiet in their wrecked cellblocks in the penitentiary.

The quiet was welcome after days of strife that began last Friday and resulted in a $1 million blaze, one dead convict, four wounded prisoners and an injured patrolman.

Maj. Gen. Albert Henderson, Ohio adjutant general in charge of security at Camp Perry, said the trip was without incident.

The 152 prisoners were transported in five buses. Two State Highway Patrol cars led the procession. Three carloads of armed patrolmen brought up the rear.

Another 450 prisoners will be transported to Perry in a day or two. The camp could accommodate more than 1,000 men.

American Tourist Has Rough Time Getting Scrambled Eggs In Italy

By HAL BOYLE

ROME—(AP)—If you think there has been any real progress in worldwide understanding, try ordering scrambled eggs in a foreign country sometime.

This is one problem the Marshall Plan has failed to cope with.

On our first morning of a vacation visit to Italy Frances said, "Let's give ourselves a real treat and have breakfast in bed. I'd like to have something light—some orange juice and toast and tea, and—oh, yes — some ham and a couple of scrambled eggs."

"I thought you said something light. How about a small watermelon and a couple of roast beef sandwiches, too? You may want a snack to tide you over until lunch."

"Don't be so smarty so early in the day," said Frances. "I'll bet you don't even know how to call the waiter."

She was wrong there. I already had seen a small box with three the buttons were the figures of a waiter, a chambermaid and a hotel porter. Masterfully, I pushed the waiter button, and sure enough in he came—so quickly I wondered if he had been shot in by a catapult.

A little unnerved by this sudden service, I mumbled "orange-o juiceo, tea, toasto"—the waiter smiled and nodded.

"—Scrambled eggs-o," I finished. A look of polite mystery came over the waiter's face.

"He doesn't understand you, Rover," said Francis helpfully.

"I'll try him in French," I said. "All waiters speak French, and if I remember my freshman French the word for egg is oeuf."

I held up four fingers and said, "oeuf, oeuf, ouef, ouef." The waiter looked even more puzzled.

"What grade did you get in French?" asked Frances. "Are you sure you are pronouncing it right?"

"Wuff! Wuff! Wuff!! Wuff!!"

The waiter backed away in alarm.

"Now you've frightened him," said Frances. "He thinks you're barking at him, Rover. Would it be any easier for you if I took those roast beef sandwiches?"

"No. He might never come back if I start mooing at him."

I got out a piece of paper and drew a picture of a hen, and held it out to the waiter. He approached warily, looked at the picture, smiled — and then clapped his hands.

"Now he thinks you want him to applaud your drawing," said Frances. "I don't think it looks like a hen. It looks more like a rooster."

I took the picture back and carefully drew four eggs under the hen, then madly began pointing from the eggs to myself, to Frances and then to the waiter. A light dawned in his eyes at last.

"He's got it," said Frances. I leaned back limply.

A few minutes later the waiter returned with a tray. He looked on proudly as Frances uncovered her dish, and wailed:

"They're sunny side up. They look like two big floating red eyes staring up at me. I simply can't eat. Honey, could you. . . .?"

"I'll try," I said weakly. I pointed at the eggs, then stood on my head and flailed my hands wildly. The waiter grinned, picked up the tray, and left.

When he returned a second time, Frances picked the lid off the dish. Silence.

"Now what?"

"He just turned the eggs over."

I took four pieces of paper and drew an egg on each. Then I tore the sheets of paper up and scrambled them all over in a ball and held them out hopefully.

Success. The waiter's face fairly shone. Back he soon came with the eggs properly scrambled. Ah, ah, ah! We shook hands all around. Frances was so happy she said she was willing to overlook the fact there was no ham with them, and I said that was fine because I hadn't the strength left to imitate a squealing pig.

A few minutes later Frances started chuckling.

"What's so funny?"

"Well," she said, tomorrow I am going to order poached eggs. And I was just thinking of the expression on that waiter's face when you start trying to act like a poached egg for him. It may even bring back vaudeville."

at the candidates, their wives, sisters, sons and mothers-in-law. But what one gains from a few minutes' glance at a President-to-be, is difficult to appraise. Actually, the various candidates looked like a lot of very tired men who could do with a night's good sleep.

Usually, as the long campaign proceeds the managers get into a wrangle over who gives the last word. The Democrats in New York, for instance, were in a hassle between the regulars and the volunteers that reached a state of high comedy in Madison Square Garden when the volunteers put on their vaudeville, with a band blaring, while the candidate for U. S. Senator, John L. Cashmore, was delivering what was to him the most important address of his campaign.

Cashmore had to shut up because he could not compete with mummers, most of whom exhibited themselves in Madison Square Garden before, that time for Eisenhower.

Maybe I am all wrong about what a campaign is about. Maybe it is meant to be lots of fun. The ever-growing role that is being played in campaigns by actors, movie writers, musical comedy composers, dancers and Hollywood jester somehow gives the impression that the Presidential election is becoming one big joke.

On whom?

Since shortly after World War II, U.S. military airplanes have flown to the North Pole far more than 500 times.

Antitoxin May Cause Reaction

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IF a person cuts himself and the wound becomes dirty, or contacts material that might possibly be infected, he should be given an antitoxin against lockjaw (tetanus). Tetanus antitoxin has saved the lives of many accident victims who might otherwise have gone into the spasms of this deadly infection.

Unfortunately, this antitoxin causes more or less distress in quite a number of people. This reaction, known as serum sickness, may appear from eight to twelve days after an injection, and the larger the dose, the more likely the reaction. Some severe reactions can even occur a day or two after an injection.

Test for Allergy

Some tetanus antitoxin is made of horse serum, which causes reactions more frequently than any other type of serum.

Before an antitoxin is given for tetanus, it is the rule to test the person's skin to see if he is allergic. This is usually a safe method to determine if serum sickness will develop later.

When the sickness does occur, red wheals often appear on the skin, or the condition known as urticaria. There may be fever lasting a few days and a severe aching in all the joints. The glands become enlarged, and the person may have difficulty eating and breathing. He may sneeze, cough, even have convulsions.

The discomfort usually lasts several days. It is also possible for the blood pressure to fall very low

Immunization Advised

It is important for all children to be immunized against lockjaw with tetanus toxoid. Then they would not need any antitoxin when they suffered a wound. Many infants are now immunized, as are the members of the armed forces.

When serum sickness occurs, the antihistamine drugs and epinephrine are usually of help. In some cases, these drugs only relieve the symptoms for a short time.

Excellent results have been obtained by treating serum sickness with ACTH and cortisone. These drugs do not cure the sickness, but relieve distress until the reaction wears off.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G. M.: I have been advised to have an operation for the relief of osteomyelitis. Do you think this is necessary?

Answer: Osteomyelitis is an infection of the bone, caused by a germ. It sometimes follows a throat infection, but may occur after an injury to the leg, such as a fracture.

Usually, if osteomyelitis is discovered early, the giving of high doses of penicillin and the other antibiotics will remedy this disorder. However, if a great amount of bone destruction has taken place, operation may be necessary, as well as treatment with penicillin and other antibiotics.

Tigers Ending Practice, Ready For Tilt With Lion Powerhouse

Circleville's Red and Black football team will run into a really rugged foe Friday night when it tangles with the point-a-minute Washington C. H. powerhouse.

Tiger gridders will wind up their final practice session of the season Thursday night with an under-the-lights session on the local field.

Local gridders will go into Friday's season-ending game with nothing to lose, pitting their season mark of three wins in eight starts against the unblemished record of eight wins without a loss of the Blue Lions.

The Tigers to date have won from Holy Rosary, Greenfield and Westerville, while losing to Linden McKinley, Wilmington, Hillsboro, Grandview and St. Charles.

WASHINGTON, spearheaded by Carl Smith, has tallied a total of 452 points in its eight victories to date, scoring more than one point per minute of playing time.

In addition, the Lions have collected a grand total of 3,008 yards on the ground in the season while limiting their foes to a meagre total of only 105 yards. In many cases, the Blue Lion foes ended the games with minus yardage.

Only three teams during the season have scored against the Lions, now fourth-ranking high school team in Ohio.

List of the Washington victories is: 59-0 over Linden McKinley; 38-13 over Xenia; 81-0 over Monroe; 46-0 over Greenfield; 60-6 over Hillsboro; 77-6 over Wilmington; 59-0 over Dayton Kiser; and 32-0 over Bexley.

Smith, star of the Lion lineup, has personally scored 264 points this season, exceeding the mark of 259 registered by Circleville's famed Sandy Hill and only 6 points away from the all-time Ohio high school mark.

Washington will lose 18 of its powerhouse team to graduation following Friday's test, while Circleville will drop only eight.

By virtue of the large graduating list, Washington may well leave its first string team in for the majority of the final encounter.

A huge crowd is expected to be on hand for the game. Giving local fans a chance to get seats, Washington has sent a block of 300 adult tickets, including some reserved ducats, to Circleville high school, where they may be purchased.

Gametime of Friday's final match of the season will be 8 p. m.

Tech, Maryland Defenses Tight

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—A powerful offense isn't the only factor keeping Maryland and Sugar Bowl-bound Georgia Tech at the top of the college football heap. The two Southern powers also have the two best defensive platoons in the land.

Maryland has limited seven foes to a total of 1,095 yards both rushing and passing for an average of 156.4 yards per game yield, while Tech has given up 1,097 yards in seven games for an 156.7 average.

Keeneland Sale Nets $2 Million

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 6—(AP)—A $2 million thoroughbred horse sale in which 973 yearlings, breeding stock and horses of other ages traded hands closed at Keeneland Wednesday night.

The 412 horses sold this week returned $803,200 for an average of $1,950. There were 552 yearlings in last week's auction with the total $1,225,800, an average of $2,221.

'Copter Pilot Is 'Retriever'

SEOUL, Nov. 6—(AP)—A new sport in Korea is hunting from helicopters.

One general, going to and from the front, has run up a bag, said his pilot, of "two foxes, three pheasants, 12 ducks and two geese." Asked if the general ever took his hunting dog along, the pilot said: "Hell no, I'm the retriever."

Breeding Hogs To Give Better Crop If Tested

Farmers choosing hogs for Fall breeding should have them tested now for brucellosis to protect farm family health as well as to assure a better Spring pig crop.

Brucellosis - infected swine have been found to be a prime source of undulant fever among farm families," experts say.

Blood-testing the hogs on a farm is now becoming routine practice with many owners, both as a health and a profit measure.

Experts recommended hogs which react to the blood test should either be sent to slaughter or kept in isolation, depending on the veterinarian's judgment. Further tests should then be continued at regular periods until no reactors are found.

If any breeding swine show signs of bad joints or lameness, it is also recommended they be given a health checkup.

* * *

LAMENESS and defective joints can be symptoms of erysipelas, infectious arthritis, brucellosis, or nutritional deficiencies. Experts point out accurate diagnosis is necessary to determine the nature of the disease so steps may be taken to protect the rest of the drove.

AP Guesspert Admits His Average Slips

He Had Only 36 Right Last Week, But Tries To Pick Winners Again

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—Who says that picking football winners is as easy as picking apples? Not this forecaster, who had only 36 correct selections in 49 decisions last Saturday. That's an average of .735.

Last Saturday's debacle dragged the seasonal mark down to .771 on figures of 229 won, 68 lost. Here are the uninsured winners of this weekend's games as seen by this guesspert:

Michigan State over Indiana: NCAA statistics show that Michigan State has the most fearsome attack in the land. The statistics say nothing about Indiana's defense.

(Editor's Note: Claassen's colleague, Jerry Liska, predicts the score will be Michigan State 28, Indiana 7.)

Oklahoma over Notre Dame: Quarterback Crowder and center Catlin, Oklahoma's C-C boys, to turn the tide even though the game is played in South Bend. The game is your TV morsel Saturday afternoon. It should be just about the best game you'll get to see in your living room all season.

(Liska guesses the score will be: Oklahoma 8, Notre Dame 19).

* * *

GEORGIA TECH over Army: Two teams of whirlwind speed. In addition to all that speed Georgia Tech has an awesome backfield trio in Turner, Teas and Hardiman.

UCLA over Oregon State: Should be easy unless UCLA relaxes too much.

(Liska disagrees, says Pitt will dump the Bucks, 21-14, observing that the Panthers have claws).

Purdue over Minnesota: There is at least one upset in the Big 10 but this doesn't appear to be the place for it. Purdue on its way to the Rose Bowl.

(Liska picks Purdue to score a 21-13 victory).

Duke over Navy: A squeaker.

Penn over Georgia: Some day those Quakers will break loose and this could be the Saturday.

Princeton over Harvard: The venerable Big Three series is resumed and for the first time in a decade all have fashionable records. Princeton, however, has met the stauncher opponents.

Finishing the rest in a hurry:

Saturday—

East: Trinity over Amherst, Fordham over Clemson, Connecticut over Brown, Columbia over Dartmouth, Holy Cross over Colgate, Rutgers over Lafayette, Maine over Bowdoin, Syracuse over Penn State, Coast Guard over RPI, Temple over Boston University, Wesleyan over Williams.

Midwest: Toledo over Bradley, Michigan over Cornell, Colorado over Missouri, Iowa State over Drake, Illinois over Iowa, Wisconsin over Northwestern, Villanova over Tulsa, Wyoming over Kansas State.

South: Alabama over Chattanooga, Kentucky over Tulane, Auburn over Mississippi State, Washington & Lee over North Carolina State, Furman over Presbyterian, Davidson over Richmond, South Carolina over The Citadel, Virginia over North Carolina, West Virginia over VMI, William and Mary over VPI.

Southwest: Mississippi over Houston, Rice over Arkansas, Southern Methodist over Texas A & M, Texas Christian over Wake Forest.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The scramble for teams for the Jan. 1 football bowl spectacles is on with New Orleans' Sugar Bowl out in front of the pack.

Georgia Tech, unbeaten, untied and unsurpassed at the moment as a bowl attraction, agreed to play in the Sugar Bowl Wednesday, thus becoming one of the earliest bowl-bound teams since the New Year's Day classics were started.

Who the powerful Engineers, third-ranked in the Associated Press poll, will meet is anybody's guess.

The Rose Bowl in Pasadena, granddaddy of the January spectacles, will, of course, match the Pacific Coast Conference and Big Ten champions. Dallas' Cotton Bowl will have the Southwest Conference winner as host team. But the three conference races are far from settled, and nobody can say for sure at this date who'll be defending conference honors Jan. 1.

THE MIAMI Orange Bowl, fourth of the big four bowls, will hold a committee meeting this week and members declined to discuss any possible teams until then. A spokesman commented, however, that "November is an important month in football and we want to pick the best teams."

A rundown of the top 10 teams shows that only one other team, eighth-ranked Tennessee, is eligible for a bowl bid. The Volunteers, who have appeared in many bowl games, are still trying to live down an early season loss to Duke, which was whomped, 28-7, by Georgia Tech last Saturday.

Michigan State, No. 1, is a member of the Big Ten, although not eligible for conference football competition until next year. Maryland, No. 2, is barred by a Southern Conference ruling against bowls.

Oklahoma, No. 4, and Kansas, No. 7, are members of the Big Seven, which frowns on bowls, while UCLA, No. 5 will meet sixth-ranked Southern California Nov. 22 in the battle for Pacific Coast honors.

Purdue, No. 9, is the current favorite to meet the UCLA-USC winner in the Rose Bowl, and Notre Dame, No. 10, does not go in for bowl games.

Bulldogs Open Cage Wars With 80-61 Victory

New Holland's Bulldogs registered a power-packed 80-61 victory over host Madison Mills cagers Wednesday night in their first official game of the season.

The Bulldogs opened the encounter with a 16-11 edge, swelling the lead to 38-26 at the half-way mark and posting a lopsided 60-39 margin going into the final frame.

High scorers for the Bulldog quintet in the test were Kenneth Kirk and Don Campbell, tied with 15 points each. Tops for the Madison Mills team was Gerald Stilling with 14.

Bulldog reservists fell by a 35-19 count in the preliminary. Roy Heacox scored five points to lead scoring for the junior Bulldogs.

Bucks Polish Ground Attack

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6—(AP)—Coach Woody Hayes had his Ohio State Buckeyes concentrate on ground work Wednesday in preparation for Saturday's invasion by the University of Pittsburgh Panthers.

Hayes said the Bucks' ground work was not up to the standard of their passing offense. Seven first-string players are bruised, but Hayes said he expected all of them to be able to play against Pitt.

Frisco Yardage Tops In League

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6 — (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers held top position in the total yardage gained race in the National Football League during the first half of the season with a total of 2,196 yards.

The 49ers gained 1,318 yards rushing and 878 passing to lead the Cleveland Browns who have registered 2,046 yards on 795 rushing and 1,251 passing. Green Bay is a close third with a total of 2,014.

Ground-Breaking Ceremony Due At 3 P.M. Sunday For Hospital

A big ground-breaking ceremony is planned for 3 p. m. at Berger hospital, where a new $303,000 building and remodeling program will begin Monday.

The special program arranged for the ceremony will begin with a welcoming address by Mayor Ed Amey, president of the board of commissioners.

The mayor then will introduce the Rev. Donald Mitchell of Presbyterian program, who will deliver invocation.

Next will be introduction of the other members of the hospital board. They will be Richard Simkins, Robert L. Brehmer, Dr. Edwin S. Shane, Harry Heffner, Dr. R. S. Hosler, D. A. Marshall, Howard Koch and Durward Dowden.

IN ADDITION, representatives of various local organizations which have contributed largely to the success of the proposed building program will be introduced.

They will be Dr. Shane, president of the Pickaway County Medical Society; Emmitt Crist, Pickaway County Bar Association; Mrs. Joseph Bell, Berger hospital General Guild; and William Goode, Pickaway County commissioner.

Following that will be introduction of the mayors of the villages of the County.

Next will be intrduction of F. F. Freshwater of Freshwater and Harrison, architects; and George Sever of Sever-Williams construction Co., winners of 5he contract.

Robert L. Brehmer will then be presented. He served as a member of the original board and now is vice-president of the group. He will review the history of the hospital.

Next to be introduced will be Mrs. Margaret Bradbury, new superintendent of the hospital. Mrs. Bradbury will outline the significance of the new building program.

ALSO TO give remarks will be Mrs. Bell, Guild chairman, and Mrs. Darlene Seymour, great niece of the late Frank Berger, whose contribution paved the way for the formation of the hospital.

Msgr. George Mason of St. Joseph's church will conduct the consecration ceremony, and Mrs. Seymour will present spades to Mayor Amey and Commissioner Goode, who will break the ground.

Truman Offering Ike His Airplane

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP) — President Truman invited the victorious Dwight D. Eisenhower Wednesday to use the White House plane, the "Independence," for a flight to Korea.

Eisenhower's announcement he would go to Korea in an effort to find a way of bringing the war to an honorable end was a highlight of the bitter campaign.

"The Independence will be at your disposal if you will desire to go to Korea," Truman said.

Eisenhower promptly replied that he will use a military plane to fly to Korea, and will notify the defense secretary of his departure as early as possible.

Wilmington Print Company Is Sold

WILMINGTON, Nov. 6 — (AP)—All stock of the Wilmington Publishing Co. has been sold to Lewis A. Sutton and Howard MacDonald, officials of the concern for several years.

Sellers were W. J. Galvin, Wayne W. Galvin and the Wilmington News Journal Co. The firm which was sold is a commercial printing company which occupies quarters adjoining the News Journal building. These quarters will be vacated by the printing firm which will move to another location, leaving the newspaper more elbow room.

'Oscar' Going To University

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6—(AP)—The movie "Oscar" that Hattie McDaniel won for her performance in "Gone With The Wind" is to be placed in the keeping of Howard University in Washington, D. C.

The will of the Negro actress was filed here for probate, disposing of less than $10,000 to a few relatives and friends. She left $1 to her former husband, Larry C. Williams.
